VILLA STOPS BRAGGING; HIS DEFEAT RUMORED.

REBELS ARE RETREATING, CITY OF MEXICO REPORTS.

Federals Are Pounding at Their Rear, the War Department Says.

Last Word from the Insurgent Fighting Chief Was, "The Wire Will Be Open When I Reach Torreon," but the Wire Is Not Open Yet and He Is Thought to Be Going in the Opposite Direction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, March 25.—The War Department issues the statement that the rebels under Villa were routed at Torreon with great slaughter early today. Eight hundred men under Gen. Joaquin Maas and Gen. Javier Maas, it is announced, arrived opportunely from Saltillo in time to add greatly to the Federal victory. The rebels are said to be retreating northward, with the Federals pounding at their rear.

It is admitted that Villa's men entered Lerdo, a suburb of Torreon, but it is explained that this was a ruse on the part of Gen. Velasco to ambush them. As soon as they were well into that territory the Federal artillery shelled them, the cavalry charging as the rebels started to retreat. Gen. Maas and De Moura are reported to have made the distance between Hipolito and Torreon in fifty armed automobiles which they were carrying, the railroad having been cut at Hipolito.

The rebel losses in dead and wounded are reported to be 2000.

NEWS FAKERS AT IT AGAIN.

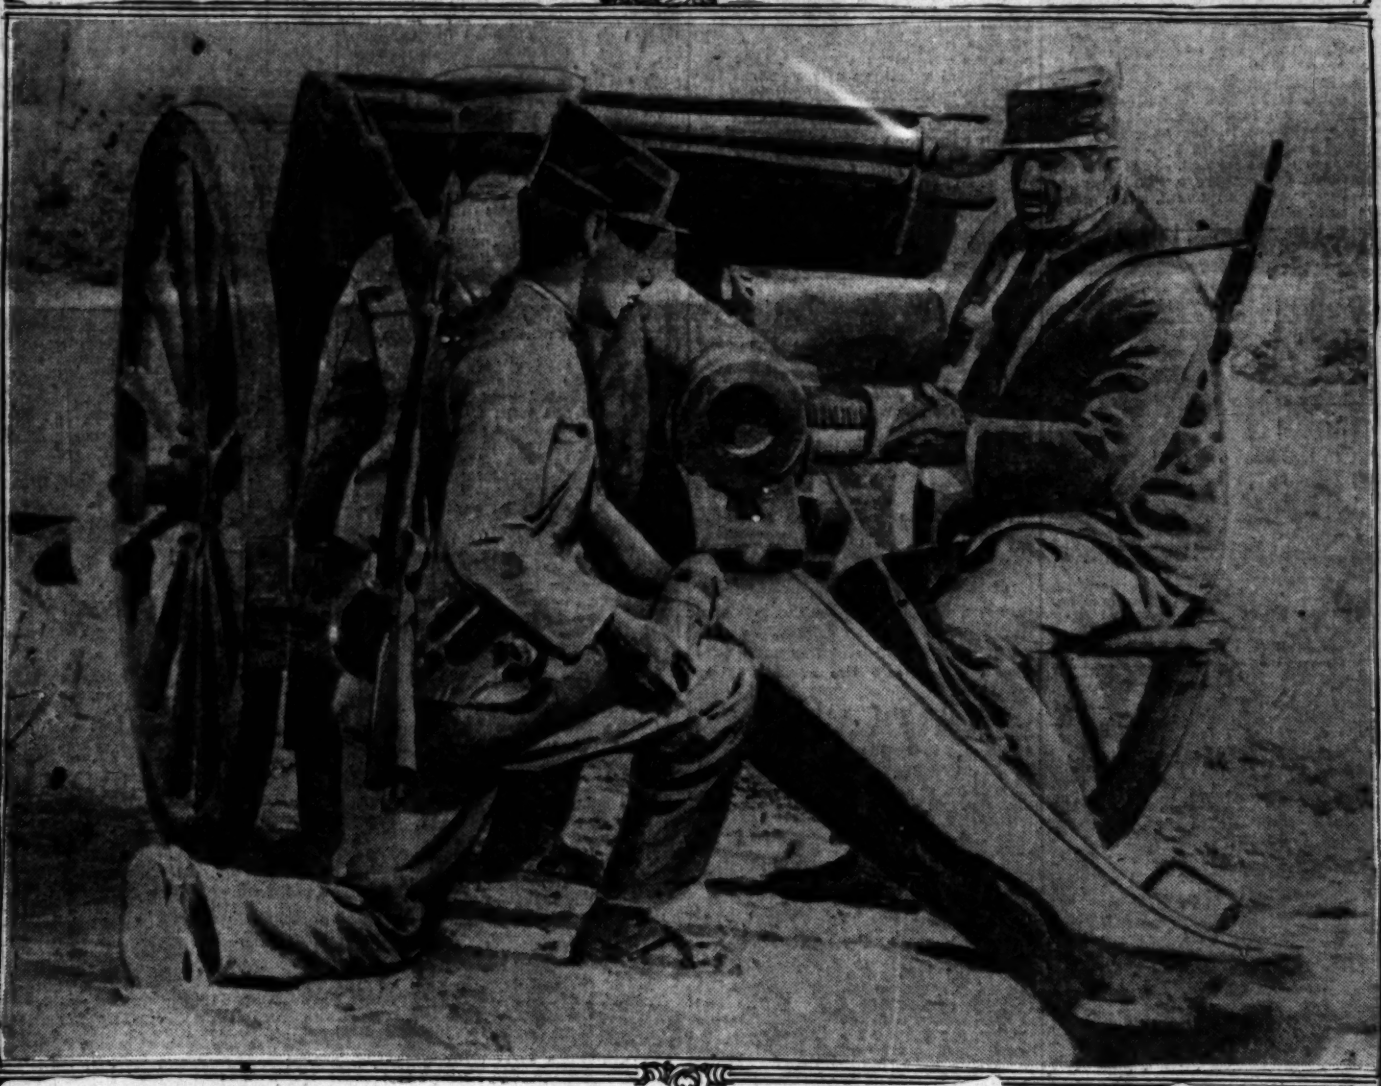

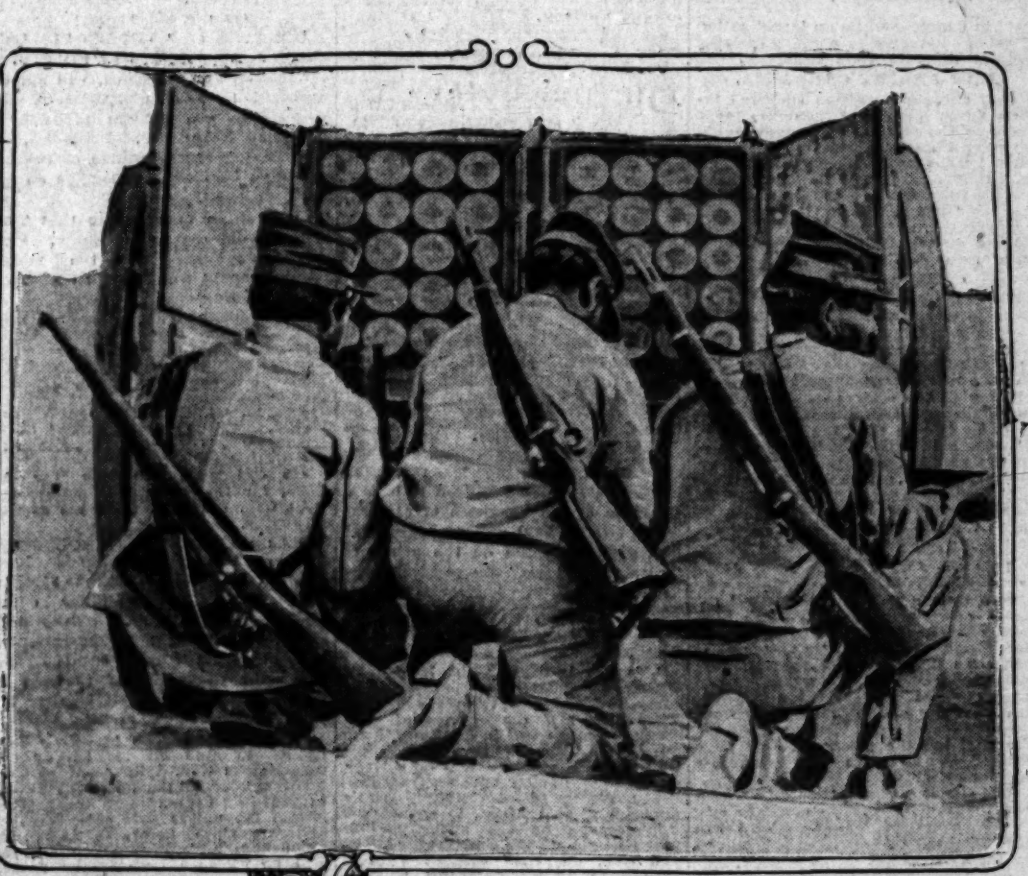

Or the Danger of Printing Vain Imaginings as Truth Fully Exposed.

The Times yesterday, as on the day before and all days previous, was the only newspaper in Los Angeles that presented the straight news of the Mexican situation. The Times yesterday stated in its headlines and in the text of its dispatches from Chihuahua and Juarez that fighting was still in progress near Torreon and that Villa's advance had been checked. The two other morning papers in Los Angeles falsely reported in glaring type that Torreon had fallen and that the Federals had been routed. The Times' dispatches were verified by new developments of last evening. The mendacious reports of the fall of Torreon, Tuesday night, were offered to The Times by the rebel news fakers in El Paso, Chicago and New York, but The Times refused to print them.

HONOLULU STEAMER BLOWS UP, FORTY LIVES REPORTED LOST.

HONOLULU, March 25.—Between thirty and forty lives are believed to have been lost by the blowing up of the inter-island steamer Maui tonight off Pearl Harbor. From Fort Kamehameha, soldiers observed that the steamer apparently was on fire. A few minutes later the ship was seen to blow up and immediately sink. More than thirty men, including the crew and a number of laborers, mostly Hawaiians, were aboard. Rumors are current that the Maui struck a mine, but the general opinion is that a boiler explosion caused the disaster. With the aid of searchlights from Fort Kamehameha and Japanese sampans are searching the sea for any survivors that were able to keep afloat. The loss of all aboard the steamer is indicated, as it is believed the ship sank so quickly that there was no time to launch small boats. The Maui was a steel schooner of 621 tons, owned by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, and was used in the island trade. She was built in 1898 at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco. Her dimensions were 171 feet by 30. The Maui left this port at 5 p.m. for Kauai with a cargo consisting mostly of explosives. It is regarded as possible that the fire observed on the ship ignited the explosives and caused the vessel's destruction. Not until the tug Intrepid, which is aiding in the search for possible survivors, returns to this port will details of the disaster be obtainable, either from anyone who happened to have been aboard or from vessels in the vicinity. VENICE (Italy) March 25.—King Victor Emmanuel returned today and had a cordial meeting with Emperor William of Germany. CAG RULE ON REPEAL.

Wilson Would Limit Tolls Debate.

Fearing Defeat, the President Gives Orders for Congressmen to Crawl.

Close Vote Is Predicted in the Big Fight Scheduled to Begin Today.

Executive Is Assailed as a Bulldozer in a Speech in the Senate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Lenses were sharply drawn tonight for the opening of the most bitterly contested legislative struggle that has confronted President Wilson's administration—the fight to repeal the law giving American coastwise ships free passage through the Panama Canal. Opposing forces divided for the opening skirmish in the conflict which will open when a special rule is presented to the House tomorrow to limit debate on the repeal controversy.

For the first time since the Democratic administration took charge of the government, administration leaders found a strong, resourceful and determined element within the party opposed to a policy which President Wilson had personally espoused.

Personal convictions on the question have practically obliterated party lines. This political situation with the international character of the question involved, and the stress the President has placed upon his position as necessary to the successful conduct of the administration's foreign policy combined to make up a situation fraught with complications.

The President's supporters tonight asserted they were gaining ground in the House and one enthusiastic administration leader predicted the passage of the repeal bill by a majority of nearly 100. The most conservative members of both sides, however, anticipated a hard-fought struggle with a bitter and protracted debate, followed by a close vote.

Aligned against the President's demand for the repeal are the three leaders of the parties in the House—Representative Underwood of the Democrats, Representative Mann of the Republicans and Representative Murdock of the Progressives. Wings of all three parties are behind these leaders.

On the other hand, Chairman Adamson of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, Representative Henry of the Rules Committee, Representative Stevens of Minnesota and many other representatives of all three parties have accepted the President's position. It was generally believed tonight that Majority Leader Underwood and other Democrats, while speaking against the bill, and voting against it, would not attempt to organize an extensive opposition, or resort to obstructive tactics to prevent the passage of the bill.

TO LIMIT DEBATE.

At noon tomorrow Chairman Henry will report a special rule providing for fifteen hours of general debate on the repeal bill, and allowing no opportunity for amendment of the measure. An attempt will be made to fix four hours as a limit of debate on the proposed rule. If this is accomplished, the first test vote will come late tomorrow on the adoption of the rule.

The supporters of the President are prepared to argue that the exemption of American ships from canal tolls is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty; that it is a form of subsidy to special interests; and the repeal is essential in order that the President may carry out his foreign policy. Opponents of the bill will declare that American shipping needs the free use of the canal, that transcontinental railroads fear the competition of free American ships, and that to repeal the free tolls section would be "trucking to Great Britain without exhausting diplomatic negotiations."

An effort will be made, if the rule is adopted, to press debate to a conclusion, and reach a vote on the bill late Saturday. If debate is prolonged, however, the final vote may go over until next week.

In the Senate today the feeling over the proposed repeal was demonstrated in debate precipitated by Senator Chamberlain, who called up his resolution requesting the Secretary of War for information as to the expense of maintaining improved waterways and canals within the United States. Senator Chamberlain said that the Canadian Pacific Railroad, backed by other transcontinental railroads, was the "insidious influence" behind the repeal, but he acquitted the President of yielding to any such influence. The President's view that toll exemption is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, Senator Chamberlain insisted, was erroneous.

"I never will stand on the floor of this Senate," the Oregon Senator declared, "and advocate that this government yield anything to Great Britain. That nation is universally understood to be not the friend of America."

The public has heard how in the last few years Mr. Edison has again been working twenty hours a day, like a human dynamo. It was his old pet and hobby on which he was at work---the phonograph. He gave notice that he would not cease until he was ready to make the announcement---"real music at last."

Health and Strength Regained
By Splendid Tonic Influence

The Season's Difference Affects All Manner of Life and the Human Body Needs Help Most of All

So many people use S. S. S. every Spring that it is really a message of health to those who wonder why they feel so utterly worn out when the trees begin to bud. Throughout the Southern States S. S. S. has been for forty years a trusted tonic for the early days of Spring. Of purely vegetable origin it combines elements which kindly influence the overworked blood vessels and overstrained nerve tissues.
Its action is medicinal just as meat or milk is nutritional.

OUR WINTER INACTIVITY.

During the confined months of the winter season there are many of us who are less active. The liver is sluggish, the skin is dormant, the kidneys are overworked, the lungs are not called upon to breathe with sufficient depth and energy to satisfy the demands of the tissues for their needed amount of oxygen. And thus the body needs help, must have it. Experience comes to our relief, and what better guide could we select than the example of those who annually know exactly what to do—use S. S. S.

RETAINS ITS INDIVID-UALITY.

The wonderful tonic influence of this splendid blood purifier is traced to its ability to retain its individuality. It is acceptable to the weakest stomach, and yet it is not changed or converted or excreted until it has exercised its medicinal dominance throughout the blood circulation.

This is important. Some drugs have this same effect, but they remain in the system, a fruitful source of irritation and danger. S. S. S. does not remain in the system, for after having served the purpose as a medicinal action, it is excreted with the waste products, and this excretory process goes on every second of time.

THE GREAT QUESTION OF HEALTH
ANSWEREDBLOOD IMPURITIES BY NAME.

We are prone to think too much of names. When the muscles ache and the sciatic nerve hurts, and there are general pains the word Rheumatism leads one to forget that it is the blood as much as the nerves that are responsible for these pains. And S. S. S. proves this by its tonic influence in the blood. When the mind and body are jaded and utterly cast down with malarial infection, it is the blood that contains this poisonous influence. Here again S. S. S. asserts its tonic influence.
And if from a sluggish blood stream,
there are skin eruptions, blood risings, indolent abscesses and other evidences of accumulated body wastes, the medicinal action of S. S. S. gives ocular evidence of its medicinal influence.

A TRUTHFUL MEDICINE.

Not one particle of anything other than the native roots and simple pre-servatives are used in the preparation of S. S. S. It has survived many years of the most searching tests, and never in its forty and more years of usefulness has it ever been found otherwise than a purely beneficial medicine, helpful to the young, invigorating to those advanced in years, and containing just the amount of gentle exhilaration so much required by most women.

S. S. S. is strongly recommended in almost every community in America, and is sold in most drug, department and general stores.
But by all means avoid substitutes.
Do not permit anyone to palm off something they claim to be "Just as good."
Ask for S. S. S., insist upon getting it, and you will thus avoid grievous disappointment. S. S. S. is prepared only in the Laboratory of the Swift Specific Co., 408 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. And for a special book on Catarrh or Rheumatism or skin diseases or blood troubles,

HOBSON PAYS THOUSANDS TO BEAT OUT UNDERWOOD

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—First reports of a campaign expense in Senatorial primaries under the new direct elections amendment were made public by the Senate today.

Representative Hobson of Alabama sent in a detailed account of expenditures aggregating $13,873.41, of which $1774 was spent in traveling, and $2618.19 in newspaper and other advertising. Contributions to this fund amounted to $128,000. Of this $600 came from the National Temperance Union, $100 from the Underwood, Hobson's opponent, not made his report.

From South Dakota, Senator Burke's list totaled $12,000, of which $1000 was for traveling, and $1100 for his opponent, Kirby, $1621.50.

Britain, were the citizen of any other nation he would be charged with treason. He has never hesitated to spend his millions in endeavoring to inculcate a reciprocal feeling for Britain in the minds of the people of the United States.

Mr. Chamberlain's attack on Mr.
Carnegie came as the climax of an hour of hot argument, during which Senator Jones, who also opposed a recall of the tolls exemption, had read, under protest, several letters attacking the contention of President Wilson. The debate was cut off when the subject went over to tomorrow under parliamentary procedure.

LETTER FROM BOSTONIAN.
Senator Jones had read a letter from William B. Larkin of Boston, assailing President Wilson's contention and saying:

"The President should be recalled to the classic shades of Princeton instead of being permitted to continue to bulldoze accredited representatives of the American people in Congress."
Senator Hoke Smith, Senator Lewis and other Democratic leaders failed by various parliamentary tactics to prevent the reading of the letter.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, interrupted the reading of similar letters to ask Mr. Jones's opinion of the President's motives in urging recall.

JONES DEFENDS WILSON.
"I believe the President to be acting honestly and in accordance with his best judgment," said Senator Jones.

"I am simply reading these letters to show the feeling and indignation among the ordinary people of the country."

THOMAS PROTESTS.
Senator Thomas protested against the reading of letters impugning the motives of the President. He said Senators should make such charges directly.

Senator Thomas criticized Senator
Jones from extracting from the dignity of the Senate by reading letters that treasoned the President with alms.

JONES'S REPLY.
Senator Jones responded he was not criticizing the President, but believed his correspondents had grasped the idea that the people and Congress were entitled to know why Congress should repeal free tolls.

"Should foreign relations justify the course, I am sure Congress will support the President, irrespective of party, but it is entitled to know the reasons on which it acts," replied Senator Jones.

THORNTON CONTENTION.
Senator Thornton contended that the Larkin letter was improper and should not have been received by the Senate. The incident of the letters ended with Senator Chamberlain taking up his resolution to repeal the provision of the river and harbor bill of 1884, which forbids the laying of tolls on inland waterways. He repeated his charge that the "insidious influences" behind the Panama Canal and other transcontinental railroads, but he hastened to add that he did not mean to intimate the President was acted by those influences. He referred to the President as a "thoroughly patriotic gentleman," and said he was sure that he was he is doing it for the best interests of the country.

TEST OF THE ADDRESS THAT OFFENDED ALL AMERICA AND NEARLY COST THE AMBASSADOR HIS JOB.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, March 25.—The celebrated London speech of Ambassador Walter H. Page, in which he was accredited with having interpreted the Monroe doctrine as meaning the United States preferred that no European governments should gain foothold in the New World, and as having made certain references to the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption, was forwarded to the Senate today by Secretary Bryan in response to Senator Chamberlain's resolution calling for an explanation. The speech, some 2500 words, was furnished to the Senate in full. The portion relating to the Panama Canal was as follows:

"I will not say that we constructed the Panama Canal even for you. I am speaking with great frankness and not with diplomatic indirection. We built it for reasons of our own. But I will say that it adds to the pleasure of building that great work that you will profit by it. You will profit most by it, for you have the greatest carrying trade. I can say a similar thing was the recent lowering of our tariff. We did not lower it in order to please you. It was for purposes that we considered economically sound for ourselves. Nevertheless, it added to the pleasure of doing that to reflect that thereby we should have more trade with you. Concerning the recent message of the President, I take it on myself, on my own responsibility, to say this. He delivered that message not to please you, but to express the true sentiment and self-respect of the American nation. As I interpret it, his was the voice of the people. Nevertheless, it adds to the pleasure of hearing that voice to know that it does please you."

The portion referring to the Monroe doctrine follows:
"May I put in another parenthesis, also, on my own account, and correct an impression that a part of your press seems to have about the attitude of the United States government concerning the investment of your colonial earnings in states of Central America that have volcanic tendencies. I sometimes read that the United States is entering on a policy to discourage foreign investments there. That is untrue. I think that some events are happening there that have discouraged them somewhat, but I hope that they cannot be charged to the United States."

There is a policy forming in the minds of our government and our people, which is not new, that would discourage such investments or such concessions as would carry with them the control of the government of any of those states, and only such, for so far as the United States is concerned, you know how heartily we have welcomed your investments in our land and still welcome them and always will. You may be assured that it is none of the business of the United States to put any let or hindrance on any legitimate investments of yours anywhere in the world, and they most heartily welcome your investments in any part of the Americas, provided only you don't make them so that you may possibly take the country with them."

"The Monroe doctrine meant this when it was first formulated: that the United States would object to any European governments taking more land in the New World. In those days the only way that a foreign government could gain land was generally to go and take it. Now we have more refined methods of exploitation and there are other ways to take it. It is the only protest that the United States has ever whispered. You will, I am sure, understand why the United States prefers that no land in the New World should be acquired in these subtle ways. Would you do us the kindness clearly to understand that and possibly to correct the misimpression that has gone abroad?"

Secretary Bryan transmitted the copy of Ambassador Page's speech without any comment whatever, and it was read in full to the Senate and referred to the Foreign Relations Committee without debate.

PIERRE (S. D.) March 25.—Progressives are claiming practically everything as a result of the vote at yesterday's primaries. Among those nominated are: Congressman Burke for the United States Senate; Atty. Gen. Royal C. Johnson, for Congress from Second District; Congressman Dillon of the First District, renominated; Gov. Bryan, renominated. The stand-pat candidates are claiming two or three State offices, but the results will not be known for several days, as a complete count has been made only of the United States offices and that of Governor.

Emil Seidel, Socialist, were nominated for Mayor in yesterday's primary and will figure in the municipal contest for chief executive of Milwaukee on April 7. Indications are that the Socialist nominated six Aldermen-at-large.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 25.—While several hundred people looked on and cheered, James H. Peterson, recent candidate for Governor of Minnesota, was arrested tonight, loaded into a patrol wagon and taken to police headquarters. Mr. Peterson had clashed with two traffic policemen, who claimed the former candidate had violated the traffic ordinance by insisting on walking diagonally across two intersecting streets. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance and the charge against him was dropped.

This Stomach Remedy Remarkably Successful
You know us—your home druggist. You know we wouldn't guarantee any remedy to relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or money back, unless we felt the utmost confidence in that remedy. Therefore, when we offer you Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets with this proof of our faith in them, it leaves you no room for hesitation or doubt.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the fact that they contain, among other things, Bismuth and Pepsin, two ingredients stomachic and comfortable digestion in the treatment of stomach ills. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check heartburn and distress, stimulate the secretion of gastric juices, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich, red blood. In a short time they tend to restore the stomach to a naturally comfortable, easy-digesting, healthy state. They also benefit the bowels.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are sold only at the more than 7000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.—The Owl Drug Company—5 stores—Broadway and 6th; 435 Broadway; 3rd and Spring; 7th and Hill; 5th and Spring.

City Manager and Commis-

TAXES. Long Beach has come by their success last night in nominating fifteen staunch supporters of the "Long Beach Dry" as freeholders to frame the proposed new city charter, using methods approaching the old "steam-roller" system in carrying their will through the mass meeting. Prominent adherents of the old charter party today announced that a combination of the City Manager and Commission form of government will be presented for Long Beach.

C. H. Windham, who was persistently rumored to have been slated for removal, was already being considered by the city manager. The men who stand for a town as dry as they make it, are professed not a doubt in the world, but that the double freak government form will be given to the people.

It was Windham's name that was questioned this afternoon regarding the rumor that he was slated for the City Managership.

"I have not been offered the job," he said. "Never heard about it, and am not after it."

Windham has been the virtual leader of the charter party for several years.

STOPPED BY COPS.

After making a quick getaway from their car, which had been strangled by Mrs. Ralph B. Snively, speeding toward Los Angeles to escape their pursuers, who wished to fasten sundry old footwear and yards of ribbons upon their machine, ran into a country speed trap at the junction of the Buena Vista and Whittier boulevards. They were "pinched" and told sternly that they were traveling at a speed far greater than the law allowed. Mr. and Mrs. Snively were told to stop and to take their names and let them go so as to escape their pursuers, but the Soon their pursuers caught up to them, the worst of which was the decorating of the auto. Then the kind-hearted speed cops understood and released the couple. Snively and Miss Edna Patterson, daughter of J. W. Patterson, did not leave the home of William M. Cook and are to sail on the steamship Matsonia from San Francisco for Hawaii for a honeymoon trip.

as "Progressives" are ready to cast their ballots for a return to sane government and normalcy. There are now 250,000 Republicans registered in the former stronghold of "Progressivism," while there are but 2459 followers of Holy Hill, and 1986 Democrats. Eight hundred and sixty-seven refuse to stand for the party of the Anti-Suffrage Prohibitionists, the Socialists bringing up the rear with 381.

MAIL SERVICE CONSOLIDATION.

FREE DELIVERIES SOUGHT IN BEACH CITIES.

Postoffice Inspector Investigates Situation at Wilmington, San Pedro, East San Pedro and Terminal Looking to Improvement in Postal Facilities.

Postoffice Inspector Harrison has completed an investigation of the postal situation in Wilmington, East San Pedro, Terminal and San Pedro, with a view of ascertaining whether, in the opinion of the Postoffice Department, the consolidation of these towns with the city of Los Angeles, in its postoffice establishment, should be at once transmitted to Washington.

About December 1, last, Postmaster Harrison received a communication from the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, suggesting that there be a consolidation of that city and Los Angeles, in postal matters, which would mean the inauguration of a free-delivery system there.

Postmaster Harrison recommended in favor of the proposition. An inspector was ordered to investigate the situation. With the work relative to Wilmington well in hand, it was believed advisable to include Terminal, East San Pedro and San Pedro in the proposed consolidation, making them all a part of the Los Angeles postoffice.

It was found that it would be impractical to make Wilmington a part of the local establishment alone, for the eight-hour law applying to offices of the first and second class would make it necessary to send a clerk to Wilmington from this city to serve two hours, the employees of the Wilmington office serving ten hours each day. But under the consolidation Wilmington can be served from San Pedro, provided the investigation ends in favorable action on the part of the Washington officials.

The plan is in harmony with the policy of the Postoffice Department that favors the administration of postal affairs of a large city and contiguous territory from one central point. The new deal it carried out means the establishment of free delivery at Wilmington, Terminal and East San Pedro, the abolition of the postmasters at all these points, with everything conducted from Los Angeles, and clerks in charge of the various offices.

There is also a movement on foot to extend the free delivery system to Gardena and Point Pinos. There is a general desire on the part of the patron to have the mail delivered by carriers. This matter has also been taken up by the proper authorities.

Insufficient Funds Causes the Arrest of a Man, Who Expresses Great Surprise.

Charles L. Schroeder, secretary-treasurer of the Schroeder-Courtney Company, a law and adjusting organization, with office in the Higgins building, was arrested last night by Private Detective Blacklock of the Harris agency on a charge of passing a check unsecured by funds in the bank. Schroeder is alleged to have handed a check for $17 to Jacoby Brothers, a furnishings company. The paper was returned marked "insufficient funds." When taken in his home, No. 449 North Bonnie Bras street, Schroeder professed great surprise and said the whole matter was an unfortunate error. Schroeder came here from Chicago seven years ago.

A-K Tablets For Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headache properly to understand the cause which produces the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray of Houston, Ala. Continuing he says: "Headache is a disease without knowing what causes it to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours will soothe and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuritis and particularly the headache of women."

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than "Aetolia," and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Both patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Aak for A-K Tablets.

Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists and can A-K Salve, so well known for Rheumatism and skin diseases.

GAS HEARING DRAWS TO END.

Council Grinds Grist to a Good Purpose.

Obstructionists Attacked by Attorney Haas.

Thirty-Cent Rate Shown to Be Confiscatory.

All sorts of grain went into the Councilmanic gristmill yesterday in the gas-rate hearing, and the resultant product showed that, in the name of the continued well-being of the city and the prosperity of the gas companies, the present rate, if cut at all, should certainly not be cut to the 16-cent pattern urged by Frank Alender and others unthinking.

The Council will make an effort to finish the hearing this morning, so that it may speed the afternoon gathering up the loose ends of important matters temporarily shelved, while the proponents, opponents and plain obstructionists of the proposed 52-cent rate have had their say.

"If the City Council," said Attorney Walter F. Haas for the Southern California Gas Company, should force the price of natural gas down to such a figure that it will be impossible for the company to sell the gas within the city of Los Angeles, except at a loss, the promoters of this enterprise will have to market their natural gas elsewhere.

NO IDLE THREAT.

Haas did not make this statement as an idle threat, but as the corollary to a plain, fact-based statement of the economic benefit to Los Angeles of the coming of natural gas.

"A saving to the people of Los Angeles of $1,000,000 a year will result," he said, "even if the rate is left at 70 cents, because natural gas has a value of 1000 British thermal units, whereas artificial gas has a value of approximately 600 thermal units."

Continuing, Haas stated that an ill-advised rate means that Los Angeles will have to come back to the use of artificial gas and thereby lose the advantage of the extra heat units contained in the natural gas.

CONCLUSIVE.

Rolling into an overwhelming avalanche of arguments to encourage and not discourage the gas companies were statements by President L. P. Lowe of the Economic Gas Company, son of the late Prof. Lowe, himself one of the world's gas experts, and excerpts read by the City Attorney from a stenographic account of his conversation with F. E. Hear, chief rate expert of the State Railroad Commission, on the making of gas rates in general.

"On January 7, 1914," said Lowe, "11,000,000 cubic feet of gas went into the distribution mains of the city. It was the peak load, the ultimate of what the companies could furnish."

"Now, remember one thing," he continued, "with emphasis, 'this city of unexampled growth needs to be supplied with a mean supply of between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. And you are, the industrial opportunities you are now seeking will pass by and the growth of the city be hampered by an uncertain way by a failure of the gas supply at critical moments."

"You are a gas expert of national repute," Mr. Lowe observed President Whiffen of the Council.

COMMISSION EXPERT.

The excerpts read by the City Attorney from Hear's conversation left the proponents of the 30-cent rate without a leg to stand on. Disarmed, an expert on rates, and fresh from a similar hearing at Bakersfield, Hear's injection, by proxy, into the case here, came at an opportune moment when the issue appeared once

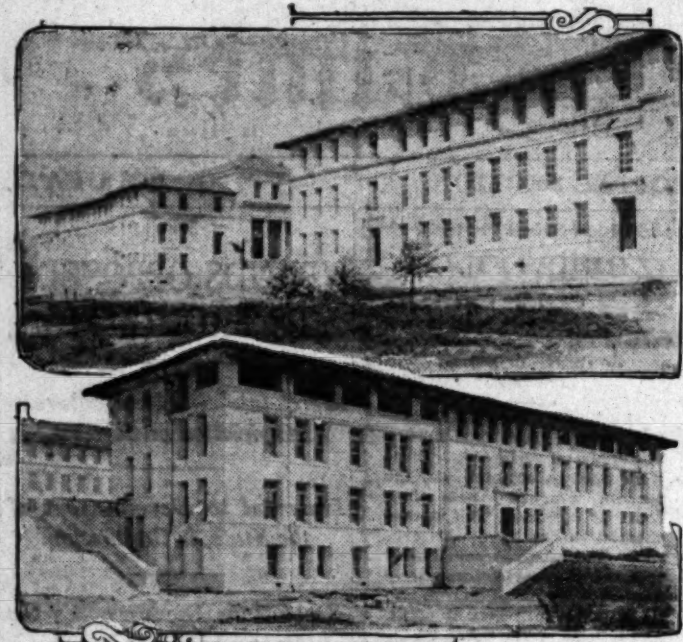

To Cut Meat Bills.

"THE TIMES" SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

DOWN WITH the cost of meat! Buy fish instead. Not that this is intended to boost the fish industry, or put the butchers out of business, for nothing will ever take the place of a good, thick, juicy steak, but if more persons knew how to prepare fish in some other way than frying or broiling them, there would be more fish eaten and consequently the month's meat bill would be correspondingly lessened, for there is no question but that fish is somewhat cheaper than beef.

This afternoon at The Times School of Domestic Science, Mrs. Bertha Hafner-Ginger will take up the subject of fish, and her class will be shown many different ways of preparing Mr. Salmon and a number of his cousins and relatives.

There will be one big fish baked and stuffed and trimmed up for the occasion, and that he will be a handsome member of the fishy tribe when Mrs. Hafner-Ginger gets through with him, is such a certainty that it is almost foolish to mention it, for when The Times cook lady starts to make a dish attractive, she has every other sort of beauty doctor lashed to the mast and beaten before she starts. There will be broiled fish, boiled more befogged in a cloud of legal technicalities and the gallery was getting restive.

Questioned about the applicability of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Kansas City and other 30-cent or near 30-cent rates to Los Angeles conditions, Hear stated "there are many and good reasons why California rates, or Los Angeles rates, should be the higher."

The cost of bringing a gas well in the California fields, he stated, averages $1000. In the Indiana, Oklahoma and Ohio fields, it is $1000. Here, a pipe line has to be laid through a mountainous country, where rock-work makes excavating high and canyons have to be bridged. In the East, a little plowing and soft-dirt excavating suffices. Also, eastern consumers, due to a difference in climate, use about four times as much gas annually as do Los Angeles consumers, yet distributing costs are the same.

"I also doubt whether any eastern concerns make money at the 25, 30 and 35-cent rates," Hear said. "At least, I can't imagine that they can. At best, the continued sound financial condition of our utilities is desirable."

SECOND PIPE LINE.

The need and the probable laying of a second transmission pipe from Taft to Glendale terminal was brought out in a general field day of cross-examination of witnesses, including Auditor Houghton of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and Auditor Hodge for the Southern California Gas Company.

The consumption of gas at present runs from 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 feet daily. Under this consumption, a supply for eighteen hours, but no longer, may be stored in the holders here. Though the Midway pipe line was designed to handle 26,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, it has been found impossible to force that amount of gas through the pipe, due to tremendous leakages and other causes, some of which will be removed later. At any rate, it was shown that another pipe line is laid into the Midway field, there will be no possibility of discontinuing the use of artificial gas, at least, in part, here.

In summing up the case for the Southern California Gas Company, Haas said:

Instead of the matter being threshed out as a political problem in an open meeting of the Council, it should be the subject of a close investigation, by men skilled in that particular subject, to determine justly and properly what rate should be allowed the company, so as to leave it an income at least as good as the ordinary rate of interest paid on loans, and when an investor is willing to risk his money in a new enterprise, he should be met with some degree of cordiality and frankness, and should have at least the same consideration that the ordinary merchant receives in his particular line of business.

Mr. Kerckhoff and the other promoters of the natural gas enterprise have been residents of the city of Los Angeles for many years, and it is through men like Mr. Kerckhoff, Mr. Huntington, Mr. Balch and others, that the city of Los Angeles has been brought to its present pre-eminent position among western cities.

GLAD DAY NOW FOR OCCIDENTAL.

BUILDINGS ON NEW CAMPUS TO BE DEDICATED.

Noted Men from Abroad to Lead Importance to the Occasion—Quarter Centennial Celebration on Old Campus This Morning, and Congratulatory Banquet Tonight.

The dedication of the three completed buildings on the new campus of Occidental College in Eagle Rock Valley will take place tomorrow morning at 9:30.

These buildings are the Johnson Hall of Letters, the Fowler Hall of Science and the James Swan Hall, men's dormitory. They are of the most permanent construction of steel and concrete, with terra cotta cladding, and are as absolutely fireproof and indestructible as it is possible for buildings to be. They are rather severe in their plainness, but admirable for the purposes of education, and form the upper quadrangle of the group which will finally occupy the ninety-acre campus.

Incidental to the dedicatory ceremonies, the quarter centennial of the appearance of the first Occidental student on the campus of that institution, will be celebrated this morning at 9:30, in the Hall of Letters on the old campus at Highland Park. The history of the college will be read by Dr. W. S. Young, president of the Alumni Association, by W. S. Stevenson of the Board of the Presbyterian church, and from two former presidents of the institution—Prof. J. H. McPherson and Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth.

This evening a congratulatory banquet will be given at Ham-burger's cafe, under the auspices of the Presbytery of Los Angeles. Rev. W. B. Young, moderator of that body, presiding. The speakers will be William Shaw of Boston, John Henry MacCracken of New York, President Baer, and Dr. John T. Stone of Chicago, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly. It is expected that a score of a thousand persons will attend the banquet.

At the dedicatory ceremonies tomorrow morning there will be a notable academic procession, a greeting from the President of the United States, and congratulatory addresses by noted men and educators of national reputation, including President Blaisdell of Pomona College, President Wheeler of Stanford, Dr. J. H. MacCracken, representing New York University, Vice-President Fairbanks, Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, and William Shaw of Boston, general secretary of the United Society of Christian Engineers.

THE FAMOUS PAREPA-ROSA AND FLOWTOW'S "AH SO PURE" FROM "MARTHA."

Almost within sight of Hollywood Castle in Edinburgh, Ephrosyne Parepa-Rosa was born. She was the daughter of a Wallachian gentleman, and in her walks down Princes street she could not resist singing the ballads of her native land. She made her debut as Anna in "La Sonnambula" in the Island of Malta. Then she assumed the name of Parepa. No one has been able to understand just why. She married a Captain Carroll in 1883, but was left a widow two years later and obliged to return to the operatic stage. She made several tours in the United States, and later married Carl Rose, the celebrated violinist, and took the hyphenated name which she has made famous. She was one of the first to organize the English opera company in the United States, although she sang in the States for years in opera. While she sang in Cairo, Egypt, and three continents, she always felt that the most genuine appreciation of her talents was in the United States. To hear Parepa sing "Ah So Pure" from the opera "Martha," the veteran opera-goer of today delights to tell about. Her good nature was proverbial, and she very seldom made a concert tour that it was not necessary to cut the programme in one-half in order to enable her to respond to all the encores demanded. Like all other prima donnas of established reputation, she was always some one in the ballad that reaches the hearts of all the people, which fixed the fame of Parepa in the minds of the people and on that much of the per-

ON THE WING.
The wife of Richard Walton Tully left him and he is suing for divorce. Not every "Bird of Paradise" takes to a cage.

WITHIN THE LAW.
The British mutiny was justified in the House of Commons by Great Britain's Secretary of War. It was perhaps justified by the House of Commons if that body is anything like the latest Legislature in California.

THE BIG BLUFF.
A girl used the glitter of a metal purse for the bluff of a pistol when confronted by a robber. A woman who could get away with this could make a man with three aces take to cover with nothing but two deuces on which to stand pat. Perhaps you have noticed how often she does it, either in one game or another.

WAKING UP.
The play called "The Country Boy" at the Burbank this week makes a couple of splendid points. One of them is that being a failure is not half so bad as admitting it. The other point is that you may have all of the talent, energy and good intentions in the world and not be worth much without a sense of responsibility.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.
It is with profound regret that we chronicle the apparent decline of the dinosaur family. The last one unearthed measures only six feet, which is less than one-quarter the regular size. It has been sent to Washington where it remains as dead as a new Congressman and as dry as an ancient Senator. A dinosaur which never grew any larger than that deserved to die and go to Washington.

A FINE SIGN.
Los Angeles is in its sixth week of Shakespeare for the season and is receiving the fine offering of P. R. Benson and his Stratford-on-Avon players with as much enthusiasm and appreciation as though the city had been Shakespeare starved. England has held Benson in the greatest esteem on account of his rare devotion as a Shakespearean student and interpreter. Los Angeles finds that he deserves this regard in the first measure.

MUZELLING TOPIPOUS.
The State Board of Health at Sacramento has ordered that all dogs in the townships of Bodega, Anady, Santa Rosa, Glen Ellen and Russian River shall be muzzled.

It is to be hoped that the board will not extend the order to Los Angeles. The proprietor of our steamed, one-spent, Progressive contemplation would not look well with a muzzle strapped to his lantern jaws, and an empty tomato can fastened to his diminutive.

A HARD DEBSON.
A triumph is temporary. One has to say this a good many times before it strikes in. Perhaps men do not dare to realize this as a basic fact of existence. Nobody would hope and nobody ever despair if they really figured it out. Life as a naked fact would mean to many that they were only occupying themselves while waiting to die. To others it would mean a view so large that birth and death and all that happened between them would be indifferent incidents so long as they took their inevitable and rightful place. All triumph is temporary, yet only the combinations change or perish.

GENEROUS.
The English War Minister threatens to resign. Just to show how much we appreciate a neighbor in distress and how far we would go to help him out, we cheerfully proffer the services of William Jennings Bryan. His job in America is decorative, but not essential. It ornaments him and he is ornamental to it, but he is only nominally at the head of a theoretic department, the inactivities of which are conducted by one Woodrow Wilson. This leaves Mr. Bryan free for all practical purposes, if Chautauqua lectures may be considered practical purposes. Besides, he would fit handsomely into England's present dilemma. Think of fighting the Irish with the Bryan vocabulary!

The report of the lobby investigators has been made to Congress, and it is now a question whether it is worth all of the fuss that was made over it. The charges were probably based on the unhealthy imagination of a lobbyist who had been thrown into the discard.

The prediction is now made that the day is coming when college girls will take up domestic service and train themselves as cooks. When that time arrives it will be perfectly safe to advertise the dawn of the millennium in this vale of tears.

Senator Owen says it is the duty of the government to "protect fools." Wasn't it Herbert Spencer who said the only reward for protecting fools from the results of their own folly would be the filling of the world with fools.

President Wilson hoped to secure the repeal of the Panama Canal toll bill by April 1, but has not set a later date. What more appropriate day for the administration to surrender to John Bull.

IN THE NAME OF HUMANITY.

A careless driver, a speeding motor car—a child is hit, crushed, dead. There is no American city whose streets are not the settings for such a tragedy. Day after day these crimes of carelessness are reported by the papers. Day after day recklessly-driven automobiles dart around corners and flash down streets—more victims are recorded.

A poignant realization of how terrible is the curse of the speed mania does not reach the public as a whole; and nothing effective is done to really check it. Laws are made as a matter of course. The speeders are not malicious; they are careless, in a hurry. Many of them think it rare sport to see how fast they can go without getting arrested—it is a sort of game. If they kill anybody they are all contrition, woefully sorry.

But all the sorrow and all the sympathy and all the regrets on earth do not make restitution to parents so unfortunately stricken as Mr. C. L. Edholm, whose pathetic letter, from which we quote, appeared in Wednesday's issue of The Times:

"The boy who was killed today by an auto truck was my only child. . . . Only those who have lost the dearest thing in life can realize the suffering of a father and a mother whose only child has been killed. Only a few minutes before I saw his mangled body, we had kissed him goodby as he set off to school, happy, strong and self-reliant. Little man that he was. . . . For God's sake let us stop this slaughter that goes on almost daily in our streets! Is it worth while, to save a few minutes' time, that we should have this continual killing and maiming of human beings? One young, happy and innocent life destroyed; two others burdened with sorrow to the grave. That is today's record. Will tomorrow's be as sorrowful?"

No appeal could be more touching. In his anguish the stricken father has spoken to all whose business and whose pleasure send them into the streets with motor cars.

If there are any whose sympathies are not reached by so sorrowful and so vivid an account of what their carelessness may cause, then they have the callous hearts of hardened criminals and should be treated as such.

In the name of humanity, let there be more care, more regard for life. Time is not so precious that sane and safe driving will not serve all the purposes of business; the exhilaration of speeding is not so desirable as to be chanced against the remorse of killing a child, or a man, or a woman. Let the owners and drivers of machines realize how frightful may be the result of momentary carelessness: A careless driver, a speeding motor car—a child hit, crushed, dead.

PEACEFUL STRIKES—HUI!

Labor unions in New York some years ago passed resolutions fining and expelling members who enlisted in the National Guard. The members said that they ought not to be placed in a position where they might be called upon to defend non-union men from being assailed by union men engaged in a strike.

The labor unions there and elsewhere scouted the idea of a peaceful strike. They agreed with Judge Jenkins, who said, in the case of Farmers L. & T. Co. vs. Pacific R. R. Co. (60 Fed. Rep. 803):

"A strike is a combination among workmen to compel the master to a concession of a certain demand by preventing the conduct of his business until compliance with their demand. The concerted cessation of work is but one, and the least effective, of the means to the end, the intimidation of others from engaging in the service, the destruction of property, and resort to actual force and violence when necessary to the accomplishment of the end, being the other and more effective means employed." Violence and outrage, arson and murder have been associated with the strike as its natural and inevitable concomitants. A strike without violence would equal the representation of the tragedy of Hamlet with the part of Hamlet omitted.

It will not be forgotten that in the strike of the coal miners at Homestead, Pa., years ago, the "Molly Maguires" ruled by mob law for weeks, property was destroyed and men were beaten. In the recent coal miners' strike in the same section of country men who attempted to take the places of the strikers were brutally assaulted. At a mining strike in Colorado a railroad station, where non-union miners were waiting transportation, was blown up. Several non-union men were killed and many wounded.

In the Cour d'Alene labor strike non-union miners were ordered out of the district—and men escaping over the mountains in the snow were attacked by striking miners and seventy men were shot, or drowned in the river.

In the Lawrence (Mass.) strike non-strikers were assaulted or murdered and in the copper country on Lake Michigan a strike is still progressing and murder, arson and violence prevail.

The Chicago strikes have been accompanied by dynamiting, murder, arson and assaults.

Violence at strikes is not merely an occasional and unauthorized incident of them, but it is indorsed by strike organizations, and physical violence—either brutally open or socrally treacherous and secret—is one of the main tenets of labor-union leaders.

Walling says in the New Review, "No unions advocate violence, but none surrender to the law those among their members who succumb to temptation, and it is rarely that they do not furnish defense funds."

John Graham Brooks says: "Among some of the ablest expositors of I.W.W. principles there seems to me very little pretense that violence may not be necessary at certain stages and under certain conditions."

Solidarity, a union organ, declared that members of the I.W.W. would decline to join in condemnation of the McNamara's, as the dynamiting of The Times and murder of twenty of its workmen was "only another incident in the class struggle." "Must we," says this strike organ, "meekly apologize for those of our kind who occasionally strike back under great provocation." The capitalist sowed the wind and reaped a little sycophancy of a cyclone in this case under consideration. Let the blood be upon the heads of our masters."

Concerning the thirty-three dynamiters who were convicted at Indianapolis, one of the editors of the International Socialist Review referred to them as "John Browns of the social revolution" and as "soldiers of the working class."

At the State convention of Ohio Socialists held April 26, 1913, officials of the party who had been disciplined for espousing violence were restored to power.

There are many thousands of union laborers who do not favor violence and would not resort to it in the event of a strike, but these are not in control.

A POOLISH AND DANGEROUS LAW.

The invariability of the mails is one distinguishing difference between a free and a despotic government. To punish crime of any sort by excluding the correspondence of its perpetrator from the use of the mails is to make the remedy worse than the disease. Surely human ingenuity can devise a punishment for thieves simpler and more efficacious than refusing to deliver letters addressed to them, and refusing to carry letters deposited by them in the postoffice box.

Where the mail is used as the direct instrument by which a fraud is perpetrated, as for instance the distribution of lottery circulars or an account of lottery drawings, the law allowing the postmasters to refuse to deliver or to forward advertisements of such lotteries may be justly justified, though even in such cases it might be better to penalize the advertiser of frauds and provide for his punishment by imprisonment as in the case of any other crime.

But to go further and provide by law—as is proposed by a bill now pending in Congress, known as the Jackson bill—for excluding from the mails the correspondence of persons found guilty by the Postmaster-General of offenses with which the use of the mails has had nothing whatever to do, is a step much too far toward a worse than Russian or Turkish despotism.

The Jackson bill, so called because it was drafted by James F. Jackson at the instance of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, is a bill to establish an Interstate Trade Commission and to give such commission certain regulatory powers over stock exchanges.

The bill prohibits "matched orders," wash sales and curb dealings in futures. It provides:

"(1.) That no package, letter, circular, pamphlet, postcard, newspaper or other form of printed or written statement containing a quotation of any prices or any other information of any kind relating to or concerning transactions in securities, or offered for sale on any stock exchange shall be delivered, deposited or carried in the mail, unless such exchange has established and is in good faith maintaining rules and regulations requiring—

"(2.) That before the stock or bonds of any corporation shall be listed, quoted or dealt in upon any exchange, it must file with the secretary a statement of its assets, its liabilities, its receipts, its earnings and its dividends for three years next preceding, or for such lesser time as it may have engaged in business.

"(3.) That members of the exchange be forbidden manipulation of securities by fictitious purchases and sales, that they be forbidden, on penalty of expulsion, from hypotheasing securities belonging to their customers, or from lending securities pledged with them, or from taking or carrying a margin account with any employee of any bank, trust company, or insurance company—

"(4.) Members of the exchange are to be required to keep accurate books of account of all their transactions, which books shall be open at all times to the inspection of the officers of the exchange and of the Interstate Trade Commission.

"(5.) If the exchange fails to expel an offending member, or fails to maintain any of the rules and regulations specified, the Interstate Trade Commission shall report its delinquency to the Postmaster-General, who shall thereupon instruct postmasters not to receive for transmission in the mails any letter, package, circular, pamphlet, postcard, newspaper or other printed matter or written statement containing an order or quotation of prices or any advice or information concerning transactions in securities sold or offered for sale upon such exchange."

formation concerning transactions in securities sold or offered for sale upon such exchange."

Section 1 of the proposed Jackson law excludes from the mails any letter, newspaper or other form of written or printed statement concerning transactions in securities sold or offered for sale which are not listed on any stock exchange, unless there shall first be filed with the secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission a statement of "the nature and amount of the tangible and other assets of such corporation, its actual and contingent liabilities, gross receipts and net earnings year by year for at least three years next preceding the filing of such statement or for such lesser time as the corporation shall have been engaged in business, together with its complete dividend record."

If such statement shall not be filed, or if, being filed, the commission shall be satisfied that such statement is false in any material particular, it shall so report to the Postmaster-General, who will thereupon order excluded from the mails any letter from or to said offending corporation, and any newspaper containing any advertisement of any kind relating to or concerning any of its securities.

The Jackson law concludes with the following provision: "Any person or corporation who shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited in the mails, or who shall knowingly send or cause to be sent by mail any letter, package, circular, pamphlet, postcard, newspaper or other form of printed or written statement concerning transactions in securities, which is false in any material particular, or who shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and, on conviction, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both, for the first offense; and for any subsequent offense, shall be imprisoned not more than two years."

The law might not be so objectionable if it provided only for the punishment by imprisonment and fine of those guilty of the offenses which it describes. The inquiry of it is the fact that it constitutes the Interstate Trade Commission a tribunal to pass ex parte upon the question as to whether or not a corporation is guilty of a misdemeanor; and, on conviction, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both, for the first offense; and for any subsequent offense, shall be imprisoned not more than two years."

THE TYRANNY OF WEAKNESS.

A Partisan View of the Irish Problem.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

The most disturbing factors in the world today are violent minorities. Weak minorities that could be utterly crushed and wiped out by majority oppositions—could be, but are not because the tyranny of weakness is baffling, confounding, remorseless.

One of the most interesting instances is that of Ulster, a province of Ireland, representing about one-fourth of the whole population of that country. Ulster is playing the part of the weak fearful wife just now—the wife who means to get what she wants if she burns the house down in the attempt.

"Ulster Will Fight" is the caption on the news headlines. And she doubtless will. And just her very insignificant weakness is more than likely to win the day. The patriots army of recently recruited amateur soldiers whom she will put in the field could be wiped out in one engagement by the imperial forces, just as the pretty, tearful, aggressive Ulster could be struggled by the strong husband with one hand. But she won't be.

In this case the husband, all the rest of Ireland, desires to set up a separate establishment, no longer to live in dependence on the old folk. But Ulster means to stay at home with mother. Husband has worked for this independence for many weary years, planning, scheming, hoping. He has practically gained the old folk's amiable consent with the one reservation that it should be agreeable to little Ulster.

Ulster is a Protestant; husband is a Roman Catholic. They have been trying to convert each other by force for years. They are not content to let each pray in his own way. They regard each with the deepest suspicion; and Ulster declares that if she leaves mother and lives alone with hubby she will be coerced, misused, cheated, and have her dress allowance cut down.

Hubby bases his demands for managing his own house, being the head of his own family, on justice, right and the prestige due to man's estate.

Ulster says, "I won't go, I'll never leave mother. You are cruel, cruel. You are making me so ill, you are killing me, killing me."

Mother doesn't exactly side with hubby, but she yearns for peace and quiet. Wants to settle down and comfortably devote her time to her own affairs. This domestic quality is making her tired.

"Oh, come, come!" she says to Ulster. "He really is quite justified in wanting to be an independent man. Just you try it, honey, and I'll keep an eye on you and see that he doesn't treat you badly."

Whereupon Ulster draws herself up with that superb dignity that all weak wives can assume to man's undoing.

"So you want to get rid of me, do you? Very well, mother, I have been a devoted daughter to you. This is the return for all my loyal affection! Oh, you can try to drive me out if you will. But I won't go, so there!"

Buries face in cushion, sobs hysterically. "God bless the child!" sighs poor harassed mother. "Here's a pickle of a fish."

Hubby and mother get together. Of course, between them they could spank Ulster into submission tomorrow. But she is a weak, loving woman. A little overwrought. Strength must be kind always.

So they agree to make concessions. "Now see here, my dear," says mother. "You go and live properly with your husband in your own home and be well promised not to make any important innovations unless you say so."

"Oh, oh, oh," weeps Ulster. "He'd make me say whatever he wanted. He is such a big cruel monster."

"Well, honey, I tell you what. Suppose you try it for a spell and if it doesn't work well do your fighting then. If he turns out to be the brute you fear, we'll all be on your side, dearie, and we'll help get you a divorce."

And Ulster pursed her lips, cried a little in a gentle, brave ladylike way, and announced her intention of dying first.

Which was the psychological moment when I left off being a wholehearted Ulster Home Ruler.

I imagine the news of the last few days must have made many converts to Home Rule for Ireland. Of course, Ulster ought to be laid across mother's knee and spanked in the good old-fashioned manner. But mother hesitates. Mother simply could not bring herself to wallop a fragile little thing like Ulster because she would surely break her if she did.

So the British government is up against the disconcerting spectacle of an army of officers resigning in batches rather than fight Ulster. The only way to bring Ulster to the reasonable point where she will at least give Home Rule a trial is to take her at her word and whip her into submission. But that would be overcoming weakness with strength, that would be playing the brute bully. The only sporting thing to do is to let the tyranny of weakness prevail—and once again Ulster will hang up Home Rule for Ireland and poor old England, who is heartily sick of the whole horrid business, will be maligned as the oppressor of a conquered nation.

VALUE OF EXPOSITIONS.

"Expositions are the time-keepers of progress. They record the world's advancement. They stimulate the energy, enterprise and intellect of the people, and quicken human genius. They go into the home. They broaden and brighten the daily life of the people. They open mighty storehouses of information to the student. Every exposition, great or small, has helped to some onward step. Comparison of ideas is always educational, and as such instructs the brain and hand of men. Friendly rivalry follows, which is the spur to industrial improvement, the inspiration to useful invention and to high endeavor in all departments of human activity. It extracts a study of the wants, comforts and even the whims of the people, and recognizes the efficacy of high quality and low prices to win their favor."

"The quest for trade is an incentive to men of business to devise, invest, improve, and economize in the cost of production. Business life, whether among ourselves or with other peoples, is ever a sharp struggle for success. It will be none the less so in the future. Without competition we would be clinging to the clumsy and antiquated processes of farming and manufacturing and the methods of business of long ago, and the twentieth would be no further advanced than the eighteenth century. But through commercial competitors we are, commercial competitors we must not be."—(William McKinley at Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 5, 1901.)

THE GOAL.
From ages dim man trooped his way Along the well-worn corridors of life. Gleaning only glories small that path may lay. In passing—seeing not creation's goal.

And yet, the universe is filled with wonders of his skill; The mighty oceans meet at his command; His genius rare surrounds him with a wasted places fill; And the lightning flash his work on the land.

One problem still remains, a puzzle that through the hills of time is gone: Where is heaven blest and where is hell? When we have joined with them, gone?

For if we there forget what we have done And to the elements are turned, Then surely life is purposeless and vain. If we our mental treasures there must throw.

Will we deny because we cannot see A great creation and a world of bliss? Believing that there never was a God? A morning's waking from a dream at night?

For night is passing as the day, and old And wisdom comes, with memory's gold; Across the world the truth is being guessed.

There are folks in our midst whose lot of heaven is a place where there are pipes, tobacco and matches. The cigar choir makes no special hit with them.

The McAdoo dance is the latest craze in Washington society life. We should hope by the Secretary's matrimonial record that there is none of the hesitation about it.

The sobriquet, "King Cotton," must now be shifted to the Imperial Valley, that produces $5,000 bales during the coming season. If the old vaqueros had only dreamt of this!

Advices from Washington are to the effect that the voice of Secretary Bryan is falling. In that case he will be compelled to do a pantomime act on the Chamberlain lecture platform.

One thing to be said about the return of the Federals in Mexico that should be down to their credit. They do not seem to be the example of Gen. McCallan who the Federals could not move on account of the rain.

THE GOAL.

From ages dim man trooped his first goal. Along the well-worn corridors of time, Gleaning only glories aimed at in vain. In passing—sensing not creations move and time.

And yet, the universe is filled with wonders of his skill; The mighty oceans meet at his command; His genius rare surmounts the sky; And the lightning flash his word on the land.

One problem still remains, a question that through the hills of time now comes: Where is heaven best and what are the gains? When we have joined with angels in their train?

For if we forget what here we have done, And to the elements mind and body are then surely life is purposeless and vain. If we our mortal treasures to the dust must throw.

Will we deny because we cannot see? A great creation and a world of life? Believing that there never is to be? A morning's waking from a long night?

For night is passing as the world grows old, And wisdom comes, with ancient words guessed; Across the world the truth like gold is coming on to place the soul at rest.

O Power Sublime! O Wisdom, infinite! Hast guided life through eons dark and grim; Hast given all to man, and now the prize? We claim: for thou hast always given. Eternal life to him who follows thee.

loving wife to him. Rev. J. R. Haver of Ocean Park married us."

QUICKENING LOVE.

She identified a gushing letter written by the defendant just prior to wedlock, in which he recounts his search for the waitress who had won his heart, and expatiates upon the happiness that will come later on. "I have long searched for you," writes Bradford. "It will seem long until I hug and kiss the only woman I love."

Wife No. 2 wiped away a tear as she identified the letter. Wife No. 1 sniffed audibly. Attorney Bowers opined that his client never wrote such a letter. However, Blair got it in evidence as tending to show that Bradford rushed blindly into marriage through realizing that he never secured a severance of his bonds with Lydia. Mrs. Annie Bradford said that after the marriage in June, 1912, they lived at Third and Colorado, Sawtelle. She soon moved into a separate room because of the smothering of her aged husband. After she learned that he had a wife living, all relations ceased, she said, and hubby went to Soldiers Home. He returned and broke open the door. He purloined a feather bed, and blankets and other paraphernalia. She had him charged with burglary. This charge was dismissed yesterday by the court.

CORRESPONDENCE ROUTE.

Lydia M. Husted Bradford testified she got acquainted with the defendant through correspondence and married him in July, 1910. She admitted she is now more than 60, while wife No. 2 is only a little over 50. She couldn't remember who married them. The original certificate, however, showed this. Two marriage certificates were produced. One was for the wedding of Lydia Husted Bradford, 31 years old, married Annie Bradford, 50 years old, in July, 1910. The other was for the wedding of Lydia Husted Bradford, 31 years old, married Annie Bradford, 50 years old, in July, 1910. The court, after a brief hearing, dismissed the charges against Bradford.

When the case comes up in the Superior Court, it is expected that a strong effort will be made to have Bradford sent to some institution. He had a record in the Fourth Michigan Volunteer Cavalry and later moved to Wisconsin. Neal, who is to be given a hearing on a similar charge April 7, enlisted twice, first in the One Hundred and Sixteenth Indiana and later in the Tenth Light Artillery. He says his troubles began when he married Elizabeth Green, a lodging-house keeper. He declares he is interested in the welfare of Carrie Shepherd of Sawtelle, but that he never married her or asked her to marry him. Neal is a fine-looking man with a good record, say his friends.

Cherry Blossom Dinner. Mrs. Henry Buhl of Pittsburgh gave what she aptly termed a cherry blossom dinner, at the Huntington grill last Monday evening, in the observance of her husband's birthday anniversary. Cherry blossoms were named in the center of the table, and the cherry blossom idea was carried out in the decorations. Notable members of Pasadena's winter colony, all of them from Pittsburgh, were present. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Buhl, those seated about the table were Dr. and Mrs. Maitland Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hotterter, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Orr, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin and Howard Bidwell.

BIG SHOW AT THE MAJESTIC.

Al Jolson Comes to Town in "Honeymoon Express."

Marie Lloyd to Be Headliner at Orpheum.

Mason and Morisco Both Dark Next Week.

The latest and best of all New York Winter Garden entertainments, "The Honeymoon Express," with Al Jolson, the really funny blackface comedian, at the head of the original cast, which includes Melville Ellis, Marie Robeson, Ada Lewis, Anna Wheaton, Marie Fenton, Sybil Sunday, Doyle & Dixon, Arthur Monday, Donald McDonald, and a chorus of sixty beautiful women, said to be the prettiest ever sent on tour, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theater all next week, beginning Monday evening.

This greatest of all Winter Garden attractions was a great success in New York, where it remained for thirty weeks. It is in every sense just the kind of entertainment one expects from that big playhouse of novelty, being filled with catchy music, novel ideas, and end of entertainers, and a small army of pretty chorus girls in elaborate costumes.

Pantages. To ensure the popularity of next week's show at Pantages, it is only necessary to mention the headline act—The Pollard Opera Company in a tabloid version of the Mikado. The Pollards are unfailing favorites, and they never tried anything so certain to please vaudeville audiences as the tuneful operetta in which they will appear next week.

For the rest, there is a mixture of mystery, music, and music, the girl with the parrot, supplies the first of these with a telepathic stunt. after one of the most exciting chases in the annals of the movies.

Robert Harron and Mae Marsh, who are the most famous equestrians who ride for the film makers, are featured in "The Great Leap," and it was created under the direction of the man who made the biograph pictures famous. It is a story of a Kentucky family feud, and its happy termination after a long fight with death, is utterly engrossing.

C. Percival Garratt has arranged a special programme of heavy music to be given with the story, and it promises to be a red-letter event at Woodley's.

Of course there are other things on the programme, including one of the famous Mutual Beauty films and a Keystone comedy, as well as other short reel features.

Tally's Broadway. Jack London took his first drink when he was but 5 years of age. His life from that time on forms as thrilling and adventurous a story as any that are founded on pure fiction. His John Barleycorn in a six-part motion picture will be shown at Tally's Broadway next week.

In it Mr. London gives us the true story of his life and teaches a great lesson with such force that it can't help but make a deep and lasting impression on all who see it.

Mason. "Uncle Tom's Cabin," an immortal play, is greeted as a welcome visitor every where. One cannot help but wonder how it is that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" always proves a drawing card, and yet there is nothing very wonderful about it when one considers the fact that it is a realistic drama in all respects.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" is a play that has been a success for many years and always with absorbing interest, and it seems as if we enjoy the last better than the first.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will never wear out. There is that about the plot—a combination of drama, comedy, wit, humor and pathos, all blended so naturally and realistically that the audience likes it all, and their sympathies are aroused to such a degree that it makes them feel as if they were witnessing a drama of real life.

Burk's big "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the largest and best presentation of this popular drama. At the Mason Opera-house April 4.

Coming Congress of Music. MUSICIANS UNITED FOR FESTIVAL.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION FOR FEDERATION OFFICERS.

Interesting Programme by Gamut Quartette, Brahms' Quintette and Mrs. L. J. Selby—Addresses by Mrs. Kinney, President, and Mrs. Brush, Vice-President N.F.M.C.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT. What was about to become a very formal reception to Mrs. Jules Emerson Kinney, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and Mrs. Emerson Brush, second vice-president, at the Gamut Club last evening, became an enthusiastic and charming affair.

It was probably due to the introductory remarks of President F. W. Blanchard, whose tongue very happily became twisted in his dignified opening words, "Ladies, gentlemen—musicians," said he quite seriously on this somewhat solemn occasion.

And a ripple of laughter greeted his words. The ice of conventionality was broken and the meeting proceeded with genuine good-fellowship.

On no preceding occasion have so many musicians representing the various branches and activities of the art been gathered together in such a number. The leading spirits in education, club work and the profession were present and thoroughly united in their expressed efforts to make the Los Angeles 1915 musical festival an important and representative affair.

The Gamut Club Quartette, under the direction of Joseph Dupuy, sang Lamotte's "Blossoms of the Night," and the Gamut Orchestra, under the direction of L. J. Selby, sang again, to the delight of the musical audience, Grunin's fine "Life's Meaning."

The address of Mrs. Kinney, president of the N.F.M.C., ably given but emphasized by that genuine expression of appreciation which is more eloquent than words, was the keynote of the meeting. It was to the effect that the federation founded by Mrs. Theodore Thomas sixteen years ago, for the purpose of increasing musical knowledge and efficiency, considered Los Angeles as one of the vital centers of its activities. For that reason, the festival was given to this city, owing to the eloquent arguments of Mrs. W. H. Jamison, local district president, together with it the Congress of Music was voted to this city and incidentally the great honor but the heavy task of producing the $10,000 prize American opera.

Mrs. Emerson Brush addressed the meeting on the work of the federation and its aim to create a genuine appreciation of music wherever produced and incidentally to protect and aid native composers and musicians. Local artists and teachers indorsed by frequent and long applause the mention that music in our public schools was the most advanced in the country and that the federation, comprising most of the music clubs of the United States, was making Los Angeles the Mecca for music-lovers in 1915.

The importance of the work accomplished this week in preparing the festival for the two most important musical conventions, combined in one great festival to be held here next year, cannot be overestimated.

KILLED IN WRECK. SANTA MARIA, March 25.—A local clothes cleaning establishment, was killed by the capsizing of his automobile about 10 o'clock this evening on the Cemetery road about three miles from town. Harston and John Hill were caught when the car overturned with the two men pinned under it. Hill was practically unhurt, but Harston's chest was crushed by the steering wheel.

Harston was past president of the local Anti-Club of Eagles, trustee in the Moore Lodge, and a member of the San Luis Obispo herd of Elks. He leaves a widow.

TIGERS WILL SHIP WILHOIT.

Vancouver May Get Lanky Outfielder.

Hogan Will Address His Men on Harmony.

Jack Bliss Slated to Catch Against Sox.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

In the process of pruning the Tigers down to the limit allowed by Coast League law, Joe Wilhoit will be one of the first to go.

Others must be sacrificed, including three or four pitchers, but to date, Wilhoit is the only player who has been definitely booked for dismissal. It was announced yesterday that the lanky outfielder would be planted in some other league, probably the Northwestern, for further development.

As Venice has a habit of sending its surplus men to Vancouver, it is probable that Wilhoit will follow Johnny Butler, who has already been sold to that club. These boys were mates together on Malar's Stockton club last season, and played an important role in the drummer of winning the California League pennant for that city.

IS OVER AGE. As Wilhoit is now over age, he cannot return to Stockton, the California League season being dedicated exclusively to young and tender athletes who have not yet mastered the art of manipulating a safety razor. Hogan is the Coast representative of Ducky Holmes, manager of the Butte club in the Union Association, and the Montana place stands ready to give employment to any surplus players whom Hap cares to send them.

Inexperience is the one thing that stands between Wilhoit and baseball greatness, as that term is understood in the Coast League. He has great BOYES SPRINGS, March 25.—Officially, Del Howard is keeping his own counsel when it comes to naming the way the Seals will line up against Venice next Tuesday afternoon for the first game of the Coast League season.

Unofficially, however, it isn't in the least a difficult matter to predict the club that will be put on the field. Chances are that Howard, as he has announced, prefers to talk matters over with Ewing, but at the same time there isn't a doubt but that he has made up his mind just where his boys will be placed.

There seems to be one problem to solve. Does Del apparently is under-

MURPHY WILL BE OAKS' NEW SECOND BASEMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—After all these weeks of experimenting and training the Oakland ball team is fast shaping up in the form in which it will go against the Angels on opening day. Manager Arthur Devlin announced today that he has practically decided on how the players will be stationed, but he adds that it will be a week or so yet before he will commence the work of weeding out the underlings. As a starter there will be only two or three, at the outside, new faces to make their appearance in the line-up. Young Murphy will replace Bill Calkins at second base and Quinlan will be in the outfield in place of Bert Coy, but otherwise there will be no startling changes.

There will be but few changes in the pitching staff. Maloney, Christian, Killian and Pruett will form the backbone of the hurling strength, and the most promising new material are Ruben Geyer and Barrenkamp. The official lineup for the opening game in Los Angeles next Tuesday, as announced by Manager Devlin, follows: Quinlan, left field; Middleton or Zacher, center field; Kaylor, right field; New, first base; Murphy, second base; Cook, shortstop; Hettling, third base; Alexander, catcher; Geyer or Killian, pitcher.

The Oakland skipper is not certain at this time who will pitch the opening game, although his choice lies between Killian and Geyer, and, perhaps, Barrenkamp.

ABLE OF POLY ALLOWS ONLY FOUR HITS.

Big Chief Gulo of Poly Pickles One for Two Bases in the Fifth with Two Men and the Game Is Chucked—Fat Martin Scores First Run for His Team.

Amid wails of anguish from their rosters the Manual Arts baseball team succumbed to the Poly High nine 4 to 2 at Washington Park yesterday.

The Artisans hardly had a chance against Able, who allowed only four hits that were scattered far apart.

Big Chief Gulo of Poly came up to bat with any luck against the Poly man. His single brought in the first run, while his triple and a sacrifice fly resulted in the second and last run scored by the Vermonters.

Leslie was the only Manual player to bat with any luck against the Poly man. His single brought in the first run, while his triple and a sacrifice fly resulted in the second and last run scored by the Vermonters.

When the fielders finally corralled the ball and shot it back to the infield, Gulo was perched on third and Poly was leading, four to one.

Leslie pitched a good game for the losers, striking out ten men, but a lack of control in the pinches blew the game for him. His team-mate played the best game on the field, but could not hit Able's pitching to any advantage. The Poly infield was very porous in the opening innings, but they tightened up in the last few cantos, making a snappy double play in the ninth, killing Manuel's last chance. Score:

ATHLETICS BEATEN.

WILMINGTON (N. C.) March 25.—The Baltimore International defeated the Philadelphia American League regular team today, 6 to 2.

Frank Baker had four hits in five times at bat, one a two-base hit. Two errors by Collins contributed to Baltimore's score. The score: Baltimore, 6; hits, 9; errors, 2.

Philadelphia, 2; hits, 13; errors, 4. Batteries—Ruth and Egan; Brown, Penock and Schang, Lapp.

BERGER IS SENT TO SECOND TEAM.

Infielder Joe Berger and Pitchers Faber and Lathrop have been relegated to the second team of the White Sox.

Callahan sent them all north last night.

Weaver, Scott and Daley, who have been with the Goofs, will join the White Sox regulars today. Weaver will be played at short while Alecock will be transferred to second.

This move would seem to diminish Berger's chances for a regular berth this season.

Callahan stated that he will pitch Ed Walsh today providing it is warm enough to suit the big fellow.

Clabby pleaded guilty to having struck Police Officer C. E. Lawrence in a street brawl January 23.

Arthur McQueen, trainer to Clabby, who was arrested and pleaded guilty on the same charge, was given the same sentence.

CLABBY WILL BE MUCH MANAGED.

Jimmy Clabby's whole fighting future depends upon City Prosecutor George McKeeby. Clabby was obliged to get McKeeby's permission last night to go to San Francisco to prepare for his fight with Billy Murray.

Unless some special arrangement is made between the court, McKeeby and Clabby, Jimmy will not be able to go to Australia to fight for the middle-weight championship of the world. In fact, he is to all intents and purposes a bonded slave.

If he ever comes back to fight he will probably not be able to train at Jack Doyle's, as, under the orders of the court, he is not allowed to go anywhere that liquor is served.

Each team made an error, and the visitors gathered but one more bingle than the Reds. Mobley pitched the first five innings and held the visitors without a hit or run for three frames.

Owen pitched the last four frames, one run being scored against him in the ninth on the only error made by the Reds.

Golvin of the Modesto club did the best stick work of the day, knocking two drives against the right-field fence, both drives lacking about a foot of going over the fence. Golvin plays with the Quincy, Ill., club this season, holding down first base.

MODесто, March 25.—The Chicago White Sox team, with W. J. Sullivan in charge, invaded Modesto today to meet the Reds, the game going to the Goofs by a score of 3 to 1.

The visitors were almost played off their feet from the start to the finish, only a lucky swap by Mayer in the fifth frame giving them any advantage over the Reds.

Witte, who pitched eight innings for St. Louis, gave seven bases on balls. The score: Nashville, 6; hits, 10; errors, 2. St. Louis, 6; hits, 12; errors, 2. NEW YORK, March 25.—J. M. Waterbury, captain of the American polo team which will defend the international polo cup this year, returned today from England. He said that at present he had no idea of the make-up of the American team. Only practice, he said, would determine its composition.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 25.—A world's record was shattered three times in one event of the dual swimming meet of the Chicago Athletic Association and Northwestern University swimmers in the A.A. tank tonight, which the Cherry Circle team won handsily, 45 to 17. J. P. Lytcher was the star performer of the meet, bettering his own record in the plunge, when he landed the premier honors. Lytcher plunged the sixty feet of the tank in 30 3/4 seconds, his first trial, 29 4/5 seconds, his second and 19 4/5 seconds, the third trial. His former mark was 21 3/5 seconds.

VICTORIA SHINES.

As regards league matches at Riverside, it was the Victoria club's great day. Each man tackled two invaders single-handed and beat 'em. Riverside won from Los Angeles, 4 points to 2, and from San Gabriel, 4 points to 2.

DOUBLE WINNER.

H. G. Pattee defeated Arthur Braly of Los Angeles by 2 up and won by default from Frank Dillon of San Gabriel. Pattee, perhaps, but he made a brave and glorious failure. And his defeat meant Frank L. Miller's glory. Frank L. Miller graces the Los Angeles team for the first time; a maiden effort, in fact; and he was dressed beautifully for the occasion. Such a feat of perfecting could not have been. Roy Holland knew it from the start. He played valiantly on Miller won, 5 up and 2. Holland tackled Geoffrey Purcell of San Gabriel in that round, and also enabled Purcell, another team debutante, to shine forth with a win—4 up and 2. Dr. Girdlestone defeated J. C. Niven of Los Angeles by 4 up and 3 and William Harper of San Gabriel on the eighteenth green.

CLINE WINS.

A. W. Davidson was another martyr to other people's triumphs, in that he was defeated by Judge Frederickson of Los Angeles by 4 up and 3, and by George Cline of San Gabriel by 1 up. Two very hard matches for the Victoria man.

Two Feathers and Jerusalem.

Coming to the Hippodrome next week. Jerusalem made his bid for fame when he catapulted Mark Twain into the Sea of Galilee many years ago. Above, Mae Marsh in the Great Leap, the feature film at Woodley's this week.

Up and Down Broadway.

EXTRA SHOWS AT MAJESTIC; DICK FERRIS AS ACTOR.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

THE eleventh-hour discovery that Al Jolson and "The Honey Moon Express" could not get here in time to open at the Majestic Sunday night came as a boon to the Majestic because the management has been able to arrange for Sunday afternoon and evening appearances of Evelyn Thaw.

Maybe it was on this account that Joe Montrose strolled into the lobby night before last all togged out in an Oscar Hammerstein plug hat and waiter clothes, and stood on dress parade.

That is, he stood there till a little navy came up and asked him when he was going to be married. I noticed that last night the Majestic's manager appeared in regular clothes once more.

Speaking of clothes reminds me that Dr. Carver, now at the Hippodrome, showed me some pictures of himself when he used to do stunts before the crowned heads of Europe, etc. They show his hair way down to his waist.

And, what do you think? In the course of the conversation Carver informed me that en route to Los Angeles from his other show is none other than the world-famous mule, Jerusalem.

Now, maybe you have forgotten who Jerusalem is, so I'll enlighten you. Remember in one of Mark Twain's books how he rode a mule beside the Sea of Galilee in the footsteps of the Savior, and how said mule, not in the least subdued by the hallowed ground on which he trode, catapulted Mark into the sacred sea? Well, that was Jerusalem.

As I understand it, Mark bought the little beast for a song, and later Dr. Carver acquired him from the celebrated humorist.

Jerusalem is now 35 years old, but the doc says he still has a few bucks left in him and can throw any amateur who tries to ride him.

I asked Mr. Benson, head of the Stratford-on-Avon players at the Mason, if he thought that a man playing all those Shakespearean roles could do as much justice to them as if he confined himself to one line, either comedy or tragedy.

Maybe not on this side of the water," said Benson, "but in England an actor must learn all branches of the art before he is considered worthy of the name. For myself, I like the versatility—it is stimulating and keeps one from falling into a rut."

And here is the latest, and it's not English don't cher know. Dick Ferris, according to his own admission, is to be an actor, playing the leads for Florence Stone. I don't know which to congratulate, but congratulations are surely in order.

No, I don't mean by that that Dick is a great actor for I don't know anything about it, but there are half a million people in Los Angeles who will go to see him, just for curiosity if nothing else, and Florence can do the acting.

By the way, all this is going to take place down at Long Beach at the Bentley Grand, beginning April 11. Dick is going to practice, excuse me, rehearse, right up till then.

Lella Bliss, the tall blonde whom most of you will remember either in "Madame Sherry," "The Quaker Girl" or "Pretty Mrs. Smith" at the Burbank, and who went to Boston with the last-named show, had to step into Lillian Tucker's part at a moment's notice, on account of the latter's illness, and is said to have made a decided hit. She wired word of her success to Mark Ellis, who coached her for the role, and naturally Mark is tickled to death.

Speaking of Ellis reminds me that coming with the "Honey Moon Express" is Melville Ellis, who is credited with being the man behind the Shubert beauty choruses.

In other words, he is the costume genius of the Shubert staff and that, in musical comedy work, is mighty important. Melville is also some pumpkins with the piano and can put over a "bit" himself, which, of course, is the reason he is in Al Jolson's company.

One of the best yarns I've heard lately is about a bull pup that was lapped by express, but which at the tag attached to his collar and thus became a wanderer upon the face of the earth.

It is suggested to me by an incident that happened at the Orpheum last night.

A well-known but absent-minded society man and his wife attended the show, and she, upon entering, said to her husband:

"Do on down to the seats while I run up and check my wrap."

Husband dutifully obeyed—taking both seat checks with him. When wife came downstairs, there was no husband—and she hadn't the faintest idea where the seats were! When the show was half over, came hubby back, wild with anxiety, searching for his wife. He found her in tears, in a rear seat, and also in a large and fiery peeve.

Who could blame her? Which again reminds me of another funny happening at the Orpheum one of those recent hot afternoons. A very pretty girl, who had evidently been window shopping till very weary, stepped into the matinee, took a seat, and in the dark, gently removed her too-eagerly embracing pumps. She sighed with relief, stretched her tired feet, and enjoyed the show till the moving pictures came on.

Then, as she stooped to put on her pumps—horror! Her feet had swollen!

Oh, well! Her feet had swollen! A colored maid, a shoe horn and a brave mind to get her feet back into gear that would permit her going home.

Bessie Clayton now comes forth and denies that she couldn't eat that corn beef and cabbage dinner which I accused her of side-stepping yesterday.

She simply says she "wouldn't."

Oh, well! But it got her goat just the same. Ask anyone about the Orpheum if you don't believe it.

WOLVES EASILY TRIM ST. IGNATIUS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SACRAMENTO, March 25.—With a chill in the atmosphere that was accentuated by a chill in an all-but-empty grand stand, the Sacramento Wolves refused to settle down to work today until after the St. Ignatius collegians were out in front. Then the Wolves discovered that they could "kid" the schoolboy into tossing off the game, and the Coast Leaguers ran away with the long end of an 8-to-5 score in a game where most of the hitting was done by the losers.

The support hat was given Pitcher Hickey of the collegians was none too puncture proof, but he helped things along considerably by his failure to put the ball near enough to the plate for the Wolves to hit. The Wolves made only six hits and two of these did not figure in the scoring, but by the hit-and-run signal, some good baserunning, and a couple of long flies to the outfielders, they made four hits for eight runs.

At all of Boston, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, wants $150,000 for the American athletes who will be sent to the Olympic Games in Berlin in 1916. England wants about double that sum, while Germany already has donated $50,000.

JIMMY CLABBY GOES NORTH.

THINKS THAT HE WILD BEAT MURRAY.

Walter Williams and Earl Miebas, Amateur Champions, Decide to Turn Professional and Want a Chance at a Preliminary or a Semi-Windup at Vernon.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

Jimmy Clabby left last night for San Francisco on the Lark, to take up his training for his coming bout with Murray.

He is to meet Murray next month in Jimmy Coffroth's arena, and feels that he will do justice to himself in the coming contest.

Joe Wellman and Steve Ketchel worked out at Jack Doyle's training quarters yesterday afternoon and both worked up to the limit. They both boxed up to their usual form, and appeared in good condition for their coming contest.

Babe Picato also did his usual workout and boxed with his brother, Charley, and Johnny Arrouzay. He was as fast as usual and appeared in good condition.

It will take a few days more to decide just how good Babe and Wellman are. This will be a hard contest to pick, as both are clever, and have a good punch.

Freddie Welsh and Leach Cross have been matched for next month. This will be a very interesting contest. Welsh easily defeated Rivers and Rivers beat Cross, although there are many boxing fans who believe that Cross could beat Rivers if they ever meet again. Cross showed a lot of good stuff when he met Bud Anderson and made good, and there are many who think he could do the same with Rivers if he really tried.

Walter Williams, who won the 115-pound class in the recent amateur Pacific Coast championships, and Earl Miebas, who beat two light heavyweights and injured his shoulder and did not continue the tournament, have decided to turn professional.

Both of these boys are high-class amateurs and will surely make good if given a chance.

They only ask that they be given a chance with any of the boys in their class, just to show what they can do. Neither is looking for a main event and they are willing to take a preliminary or a semi-windup.

ROSE BEATS COE.

Rose won from Coe by forty-five points to twenty-eight, in the Central California League meet in Bakersfield, the officials of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association have arranged to send the entire team to Berkeley to compete in the State Intercollegiate next month.

In the Bakersfield competition, the local men not only won handsily over the other schools of the valley, but lowered five valley records.

It is probable that one or two men will also be sent from Exeter and they will go with the Visalia team.

BRIVES LOSE.

SPORTSMAN'S SHOW COMING.

PLANS ARE RAPIDLY BEING COMPLETED.

State Fish Commission Will Have Complete Exhibit Showing Its Work—Roy Woods, Who Visited New York Show, Will Be Here Next Week—Meeting Today.

The announcement that a sportsman's show is to be held in Los Angeles in May has created much excitement among the lovers of the great outdoors, and Manager Walter Hempel has been flooded with inquiries regarding it. Headquarters have been established in the Marsh-Strong building and the first meeting of the Committee on Exhibits will be held today. This committee is composed of five of the leading sportsmen in Southern California and they will endeavor to make the exhibit as complete and educational as possible.

There will be complete game exhibits, showing all kinds of wild fowl and other game obtainable in California fields and mountains. There will not only be complete exhibits of stuffed birds and animals, but also a display of five birds displayed in a large net which will permit them to fly. The State Fish Commission is also to be asked to make an exhibit and this will undoubtedly be done, as it will be an ideal opportunity for letting the people know what a great work this commission is doing.

The list of exhibits as yet is incomplete, but the committee will work out a plan which will be followed and it is expected that many good suggestions will come from the outside.

Roy H. Woods attended the recent sportsman's show in New York in the interest of the Los Angeles show and will be here next week. On the return he stopped over at Chicago and St. Louis. He wired from Chicago that he will bring much valuable information and that in his opinion Southern California will be able to give a better outing and sportsman's show than New York.

VISALIA TRACK MEN GO NORTH.

VISALIA, March 24.—In view of the splendid showing made by the Visalia High School track team in the Central California League meet in Bakersfield, the officials of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association have arranged to send the entire team to Berkeley to compete in the State Intercollegiate next month.

In the Bakersfield competition, the local men not only won handsily over the other schools of the valley, but lowered five valley records.

It is probable that one or two men will also be sent from Exeter and they will go with the Visalia team.

LAW'S CLUTCH DULLS ROMANCE.

YOUTHFUL COUPLE RETURN IN DIRE DISGRACE.

Shamefaced and disillusioned, after her brief and unconventional romance, Miss Ottilie Rogers, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. A. D. Howard of No. 718 Stewart street, arrived last night from San Francisco with her young sweetheart, Patrick Brady, 22 years old and said to be a detective.

The youthful couple arrived in disgrace. They were under arrest and in the custody of juvenile officers of the local police department, who brought them here within twenty-four hours after they had been arrested in the north.

Brady was placed in the City Jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Miss Rogers was sent to the Detention Home as a runaway girl.

The young persons have been away from Los Angeles since February 13, when they eloped, the girl having departed with the young alleged detective without her mother's consent. According to the police they have been together in San Francisco.

Youthful Burglars Confess to Girl Friends.

Arrest Is Brought About by Officer's Alertness.

Three youthful desperadoes, ranging in ages from 15 to 17 years, two of them confessed burglars with nearly $1000 worth of jewelry as evidence of their pilferings, were arrested last night by Detectives Browning and Bowe, after one of the trio had been taken into custody by Patrolman Griffith on a charge of stealing a bicycle.

The loot, a portion of which was cached under a church at Mantoloking street and Workman street, consisted of rings, watches, stickpins, bracelets, prayer beads, jewel boxes, etc. Some of it had already been given to girl friends of the young burglars.

The places, Chapman, alias Coons, and Shaw, admit entering during the past fortnight are the residences of E. R. Harper, No. 2818 Robert boulevard; George H. Crane, No. 1217 Santa Barbara avenue; Mrs. Anita Gruber, No. 1925 West Twenty-second street; and C. T. Wells, No. 2512 Hobart boulevard. Much of the stuff has been identified.

The arrest of the trio was brought about by Patrolman Griffith when he stopped and questioned young Coons at First and Broadway as to a bracelet he was riding. The machine answered the description of one reported stolen.

When the boy was examined at the Central Police Station by Griffith and Detectives Browning and Bowe, he was found to have jewelry in his pockets and inside his shirt. Investigation resulted in the arrest of the other two.

LOVE OFFERINGS.
Not all of the jewelry still remained in the possession of the youngsters. They had been laying some of it all the feet of their girl sweethearts, who were found to be Nori Frel, 14 years old, of No. 461 East Avenue 28, and Beattie Heider, 17 years old, of No. 1846 Darwin avenue. The little girls had been much pleased with the trinkets, but their parents were suspicious as to their source and had forbidden their daughters further friendships with the boys.

The Shaw boy is a probationer, having been convicted of an auto theft about six months ago. During that period he has been before the juvenile authorities several times to be reprimanded for bad companions and for disturbances on various occasions.

San Diego, March 25.—Claire Dowd, the pretty "Candy Shop" girl who has been in jail since March 6 on the charge of shooting Scott Palmer, theatrical man, was freed today through the testimony of Palmer. Court was held at the bedside of Palmer, who has not yet recovered from the shooting that occurred at the Savoy Hotel and in his testimony Palmer said the revolver went off in the struggle between himself and the girl to take the gun from her.

Palmer was shot one night in his room at the Savoy and Claire Dowd, after firing the bullet, called a physician. Although Palmer would not prosecute the girl, the District Attorney's office held her until the case was dismissed today.

WORLD'S SMALLEST LOT.
A Frank Corner in New York Taxed for Fifty Dollars, on Which a Baby Could Hardly Stand.

[National Real Estate Journal.]
As a result of the tabulation of New York City's most unusual pieces of property, what is probably the most freakish bit of real estate in the world has just been discovered there in the shape of a corner plot in the town of money in the city, where corners are generally sold at hundreds of thousands if not millions of dollars.

The corner in question, however, is valued at only $48. The low valuation is partly explained by its size, or rather lack of size, since it is believed to be the smallest corner lot in the world, and on this to a great extent depends its claim to freakishness.

A derby hat would almost cover the property in question, which is so small that a baby could not stand on it without encroaching on city property. It would be impossible to erect any sort of a structure upon it, and yet it is a corner and is taxed by the city as such.

According to the records of the tax department, this tiny property has a frontage on one street of one foot and four inches, on the other one foot and two inches, and a rear line of just one foot.

WOMAN CHARGED CRIMINAL.

Dist. Atty. Robert of San Francisco Says They Should Be Prosecuted Promptly as Men.

OAKLAND (Cal.) March 25.—It is almost impossible to convict a woman of any crime nowadays, asserts W. H. L. Hyman, District Attorney of Alameda county, in a statement, and his opinion is concurred in by five other county prosecutors in the bay district.

When a woman is involved in a case, says Hyman, "everything written or spoken is in her interest, without regard to the facts in the matter. When testimony is given, its main object is to create popular sympathy for the woman. The result is that public opinion begins to cut a big figure. The woman, in nine cases out of ten, pleads that she was misled; then everybody gets kind-hearted and turns her loose upon the community to commit another crime and again set up the insanity defense and so on."

Charles M. Fickert, District Attorney of San Francisco, in a statement supporting Hyman's contention, says the history of crime shows that women are often the craftiest and most cunning of criminals.

"I see no reason," he continues, "why they should not be prosecuted just as men are."

J. B. MacKenzie, District Attorney of Contra Costa county, says he has never been able to convict a woman of crime.

"In misdemeanor cases," he says, "it is absolutely impossible, no matter how strong the evidence may be, to attribute this circumstance to an inherent attitude of chivalry on the part of men toward women."

STANFORD. MILLIONAIRE HARD PRESSED.

ALSO WANTED FOR FORGERY AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Dispatch Received at Portland Asks that Campbell Be Held Until a Detective Arrives—Financially Embarrassed "Spendor" Telegraphs $1700 to His Wife.

PORTLAND (Or.) March 25.—A telegraphic request to hold Walter Greer Campbell, financially embarrassed millionaire, until a detective arrives, was received today at the Portland office of the Portland District Attorney today. The dispatch added that in addition to the charge of obtaining $3500 under false pretenses, on which he was arrested here, he also was wanted for forging checks.

Campbell today telegraphed $1700 to his wife, who is said to have been without living expenses in San Francisco. He stated he was ready to return to San Francisco at any time.

Although turned over by the city to the county authorities and allowed to come and go under guard, Campbell's papers are still held at the Police Station, where he was searched yesterday. Among his papers are a quantity of Mexican land stock certificates, which were mistaken for gold certificates by a detective yesterday, but are said to be of little value.

Campbell expects to obtain his liberty on bond upon the arrival of his sister, Mrs. Josephine Campbell, from Walla Walla. The Municipal Court fixed his bond at $100, just twice the amount of the claim against him for which he was arrested.

Accompanied by a deputy sheriff, Campbell was in the business district today, where he was seen by a number of reporters.

He said he could meet all claims against him in San Francisco or elsewhere.

EXTRADITION PAPERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—A city detective left for Sacramento today, where he will ask Gov. Johnson for extradition papers for Walter Greer Campbell, the financially embarrassed millionaire arrested yesterday in Portland, Or.

Campbell's attorney said that extradition proceedings possessed only formal significance, since Campbell from the first had asserted his willingness to return to San Francisco. His wife said today that she would stand by him in his troubles.

RUEP'S CELLMATE SUB.

Files Writ of Habeas Corpus Against Prison Directors of Violating the Parole Law.

SAN QUENTIN (Cal.) March 25.—A writ of habeas corpus was filed today with the County Clerk of Marin county by W. J. Stanton, who is serving a term of twenty-five years in San Quentin prison for murder in the second degree. Stanton, who is the cellmate of Abraham Ruep, alleges that the State Board of Prison Directors disregarded the terms of the law when they sent him back to San Quentin a year ago, after he had been out on parole for two years. He has served eighteen years of his term.

Stanton was charged with violating his parole by drinking intoxicating liquors, and he pleaded guilty to this charge.

REDFIELD POLICY TO BOOST COAST.

Hopes to Improve Conditions Affecting Navigation.

Declares Strict Rule Needed to Govern Motor Boats.

Urges Need of Lighthouses Here and in Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Amplifying his remarks of yesterday, Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield told the Commonwealth Club of California today of his plans for the improvement of navigation conditions on the Pacific Coast, his hope for the development of great fishing banks off the coast of Oregon, and constructive legislation for which he is working. He said the department's "whole purpose toward the Pacific shores is a forward policy" and asked co-operation in bringing about the results he desired.

The Secretary said more lighthouses were needed on this Coast, and particularly in Alaska, and that the size of the waves on this Coast add a problem to their construction.

Secretary Redfield called attention to the "inadequate law regarding motor boats." It was a matter, he said, which was "on his mind day and night."

"If some day somebody grows tired of seeing others in the bay, don't blame me," said the Secretary. "I stood on the dock with all of my inspectors around me, and saw a leaky, overcrowded craft, with a dangerous engine, driven by a minor delinquent, who could not read or speak English, was ignorant of the rules of the road, and was out of control, and I did not want it pulling out unless the boat was sixty-four feet long and had at least five men on board. And it is boats under that size that are doing the carrying business. I know of a case in San Pedro Harbor where thirty-two Sunday-school children were taken out in one boat."

J. O. Davis, collector of the port, was praised for his efficiency. That there are fewer violations of the wireless regulations in San Francisco than any other harbor in the United States is due to his vigilance, according to Secretary Redfield.

Co-operation in preparing a speedy business census of the country this year was asked. "We have to send fifteen or twenty men to the Pacific Coast to go through every manufacturing establishment from San Diego to Bremerton, with a flashlight comb in order to obtain the information that you might write in on our blank," he said. "I don't blame us if the report is delayed a year or two," said he.

Secretary and Mrs. Redfield left tonight for Portland. They will go tomorrow to Seattle.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Auditor yesterday reported that the audit of accounts in the Bureau of Street Opening and Widening has disclosed peculations by an extra clerk amounting to approximately $200. He declares the Board of Public Works ignored his instructions as to the method by which these accounts should be kept.

The secretary of the Harbor Commission yesterday presented to that board an argument, urging that steps be taken immediately to provide for a traffic director of the Port of Los Angeles.

Property owners of the northwest filed a petition yesterday, asking the Council to begin proceedings for extending Alessandro street across the Los Angeles River to connect with San Fernando road.

Because provisions written into the will of Alonso C. Potter giving one-third of his $147,021.82 estate for the Lord's work, were uncertain and against the express mandate and policy of the law, the widow and her daughter receive the entire estate, instead of a one-third share each, in the final distribution before the Probate Court yesterday.

AUDITOR FINDS EMBEZZLEMENT.

PECULATIONS OF EXTRA CLERK BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Amount Taken from Bureau of Street Assessments Approximately Two Hundred Dollars—Receipts Were Given for Money Paid and Then Stub Destroyed, Says Report.

An extra clerk in the bureau of street assessments made away with approximately $200 from the bureau of street opening and widening, according to a report made yesterday by the City Auditor on an audit of the accounts of this bureau.

The name of this extra clerk is withheld, as it is understood the bonding company acting as his surety is after him. It is stated that this man had been in previous trouble in the office of the City Auditor.

Myers states that the bureau of street opening and widening has urged that it has had insufficient help to keep the accounts as directed by the Auditor and he has declared his instructions to the Board of Public Works as to the handling of penalties and other revenue were ignored.

"No effort has been made to clean up the accounts in order to get certain moneys out of the trust fund and into the proper accounts, where they might have been available for use by the city through departmental receipts and otherwise," charges the City Auditor.

He then sets forth that as a result of this neglect to produce and the closing up of accounts there now rests in the trust fund amounts which should come out through the issuance of service transfer demands totaling $26,186.36. A book-keeper who has had special training in the auditing department has now been placed in the street opening and widening bureau.

Speaking of the peculation in funds of this department, Myers says in this report that the shortage was found in the Exposition Park assessment account, and that it appears the extra clerk in some instances received payments, issued receipts in the regular way, but made no entry in the collection records, the money evidently being appropriated for his own use.

Persons holding such receipts later found their property had been sold for delinquency, and produced their receipts. The magnitude of the examination made by the City Auditor's force is only comprehended when it is stated that there are more than 22,000 assessments in this Exposition Park project.

GETS RESULTS.

SAYS EXPENSE JUSTIFIED.
City Auditor Myers has filed for transmission to the City Council a statement as to the work being performed by the special investigating and auditing department of the City Auditor's office. He recommends that the work be continued and asks for allowances to carry on the labor of the department for the balance of the fiscal year.

"At no time since the establishment of the department," says Myers, "has it been possible to definitely estimate in advance the amount of such work and the cost thereof for any fiscal year."

"During the present fiscal year various departments have been checked, the most important of which, in magnitude of work done and results obtained, was the opening and widening streets bureau. This proved to be a long and arduous task, which included the checking of the Exposition Park assessment district. I feel that the results justify the expense, as it will release from this trust fund a considerable sum which will become available for use by the city at the beginning of the ensuing fiscal year."

Upon completion of this task the auditing department resumed its audit of the aqueduct bureau accounts, which Myers now wishes to finish, and for which he asks for an appropriation. In connection with this freight rate experts are filing claims for overcharges and taking up the adjustment of unsettled claims approximating $20,000. Myers says that he believes a considerable portion of these claims will be recovered if properly followed up.

TUNNEL PLANS.

MORE DISCUSSION TODAY.
This morning at 10 o'clock a conference will be held between the Board of Public Works and Vice-President Dunn of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation. At that time Dunn is expected to give a definite answer to the question as to whether the railway will bear its proportion of the cost of constructing the First-street tunnel.

At 1:30 this afternoon the Public Works Committee of the Council will hold its meeting, and at that time the City Engineer will appear before it with all the tunnel plans in his possession referring to the First-street and Second-street tunnels.

STEPHENS ADVISES.

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS.
City Attorney Stephens yesterday presented to the City Council a document reviewing the various steps taken in the negotiations with the

NOT UP TO THE POLICE JUDGE.

White Declines to Hark Back Judgment but Finds Him Heavily.

Declaring that he does not think it within the province of a police magistrate to pass upon the constitutionality of a State law, Justice White yesterday declined to grant an arrest of judgment in the case of H. A. Elbi, convicted of the illegal use of the prefix "Dr." with his name. He sentenced Elbi to pay a fine of $200 or serve 180 days in jail. Attorney Ingalls filed a notice of appeal on exceptions to the charge to the jury, or as alleged defect in the complaint and on the supposed unconstitutionality of the State medical license law. The appeal will be heard in the Superior Court.

Police Judge White, in so ruling, took issue with Police Judge Chesbro, who last week granted an arrest of judgment after a jury had found Elbi guilty of practicing medicine without a license. Instructions of the unconstitutional ground and the State Medical Board appealed.

Within the week Elbi has been tried on three charges and found guilty on two. On the third, which was that he, as an unlicensed practitioner, violated the State pharmacy act by having poisons in his office, jury disagreed. This case will be tried again. All three actions are of great importance in that they are being made test cases on which the license law will stand or fall.

power companies regarding the proposed acquisition of their distributing systems for the purpose of distributing Los Angeles Aqueduct electrical energy, and the outcome of such negotiations. He then proceeded to advise the Council as to its rights on the question of acquiring by condemnation proceedings portions of the whole of the three companies' systems lying within the city, holding that the right of eminent domain inherent in the State and not limited by the constitution. He then cited provisions of the Civil Code defining procedure and called attention to the 1913 amendment, whereby the State Railroad Commission may ascertain the value of property by court and jury.

"Of course, the acquisition of the companies' systems under this law would be free from entanglements of the railroad trust and bond holders," said Stephens. "The sum paid by the commission would be added to the city's revenue and clear of incumbrances."

"It would seem that the law embodied in the Public Utilities act offers a simple, comparatively inexpensive and speedy method of solving the legal doubt and difficulties encountered in the course of the negotiations, and inasmuch as it insures a just valuation of the properties by the Railroad Commission as originally suggested by the companies, should meet with their approval."

"In view of the expressed will of the voters that the city generated electricity must be distributed by the city; it offers the only practical method, in my opinion, outside of an economic waste of paralleling existing systems."

Stephens then recommends the adoption of a resolution of policy setting forth that the money received from the proposed power bond issues should be used for the city's power plant, and to build proper transmission lines to the city; second, to acquire in the manner described at least one of the existing systems, and as the power projects develop and at proper times to proceed to acquire the other distributing systems in like manner.

It is probable this resolution of policy will be presented to the Council and will be adopted today.

URGES MORE SPEED.
IN PORT TRAFFIC PLANS.

The urgent necessity of providing for the port of Los Angeles and making detailed arrangements for the duties of this position, is set forth by Clarence Matson, secretary of the Harbor Commission, in a communication presented to that body yesterday. After consideration of the communication, the subject to Commissioner Gordon, who is the head of the department of industries and commerce. Matson points out the fact that the city will become a common carrier when it builds a harbor terminal railroad, as has been proposed, and that it is to be regretted that the delay in completing the terminal arrangements and appointment of a traffic director should be made subject to civil service provisions.

In his communication, Matson says: "A traffic director should have been at work long ago on these problems, and I again urge the Board of Harbor Commissioners to approve an ordinance providing for such an official, and transmit it to the City Council with the recommendation that it be adopted. A draft of an ordinance for this purpose was prepared by the City Attorney some time ago, but it has lain dormant in this board for weeks."

Want New River Route.
A largely signed petition was filed with the City Clerk yesterday, asking the City Council to begin proceedings for the opening and extending of Alessandro street from its present northerly terminus near the Los Angeles River, across the river and to a connection with the San Fernando road, which is a part of the county's good road system.

The petitioners point out that at present there is no road across the Los Angeles River between North Broadway and Tropic and that this causes much travel to be diverted through the congested part of the city, whereas the opening of the proposed crossing would greatly relieve this condition and give ready access between two rapidly growing portions of the city.

LORD'S WORK IS INDEFINITE.

PROVISION IN WILL DECLARED TO BE UNCERTAIN.

Property Is Distributed to Wife and Daughter—However, Ideas of Dead Man Will Probably Be Carried Out by the Widow—Large Amount Is Involved.

The provision in the will of Alonso C. Potter to leave one-third of his $147,021.82 estate for "the Lord's work" was declared invalid by Judge Rivers yesterday, when the final account of the executors, Mrs. Della E. Potter, the widow, and Attorney Howard J. Fish, came up in the Probate Court for settlement and distribution of the property. The entire estate goes to Mrs. Potter and her daughter.

Potter wrote in his will June 22, 1905, that he desired to establish a thoroughly orthodox mission, Baptist academy or university for educating and preparing young men and women for the ministry or mission work. The proposed institution was to be conducted along lines similar to what is known in the East as Brown University or Cornell University of New York.

The executors set up that, providing one-third of the estate for the Lord's work is opposed to the express mandate and policy of the law, that no trustee was named and no beneficiary designated. In its reference to the trust, the provision was declared indefinite and uncertain. The executors also provided for a long lease on his property on Figueroa street, fixing the value per foot, and giving one-third of the income to the widow, one-third to the daughter and one-third for the Lord's work. This provision was set aside on the ground of its uncertainty and the invalidity of the bequest.

Fish asked for the distribution of the entire estate to the widow and the daughter, Katherine Alene Potter Winter, which was ordered by the court. It is intimated that Mrs. Potter may endeavor to carry out the ideas of her husband.

WIFE COLLAPSES.

STRAIN IS TOO MUCH.

JOY-RIDERS ARE JOYLESS. Had Their Fling and Are Now Under Arrest for Appropriating Employers' Cars.

Two chauffeurs were placed in the City Jail yesterday on the charge of having stolen motor cars from their employers, and having used them for joy-riding.

William Briscoe was arrested in Venice on the charge of having taken a machine belonging to Mrs. C. C. Desmond, No. 955 South Alvarado street. He drove it to Venice, it is charged, in company with a young woman, and became so conspicuous that he was arrested there. When identified the Los Angeles police were notified, and Briscoe was brought to the City Jail.

Glenn R. Smith was arrested for having taken the machine belonging to his employer, Harry Altohouse, who runs a saloon at No. 13 South Main street, for a trip through the city and suburbs. He was arrested on complaint of his employer.

It required a jury in Judge Wood's court twenty minutes yesterday to decide whether or not Rosella Schriener was entitled to damages for the death of her husband at the hands of W. La Brent.
